Dixie Coastal Area Ripped By Hurricane

South Carolina Battered By Winds, Rains, Tides

CHARLESTON, S. C. (UPI)—Hurricane Gracie slammed fierce 140-mile-an-hours winds, flood tides and tropical rains into South Carolina's low country coast today. Historic Charleston was a stricken city.

Proportions of the disaster grew hourly as the mighty storm, wielding winds strong enough to wreck buildings, pounded inland, aimed at the heart of the Carolinas.

HELEN EWING NELSON
Her job: Consumer 'lobbyist'

Marin Woman Gets Consumer Counsel Post

A Mill Valley woman has been named to the newly created position of state consumer counsel by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

She is Mrs. Helen Ewing Nelson of 249 Perry street, since 1950 assistant chief of the Division of Labor Statistics and Research, California Department of Industrial Relations, San Francisco.

Mrs. Nelson's appointment to the $15,000-a-year post was announced yesterday by the governor. Her present position pays $11,400.

Said Governor Brown: "Mrs. Nelson meets every qualification I had in mind when I asked the Legislature to create this office to protect consumer interest."

The consumer counsel's duties will include advising the governor on matters affecting the interests of people as consumers, recommending legislation she believes is necessary to protect or promote the interests of the people as consumers, and making investigations and reports.

The position was created by the Legislature last spring.

Mrs. Nelson said one of her first aims is to make an inventory of state services now available to the consumer.

Mrs. Nelson, a Democrat, is married to Nathan Nelson, physical restoration services consultant in the vocation rehabilitation services section of the state Department of Education.

She has a broad background of experience with consumer organizations. She was on the organizing committee of the California Consumers Assn., the planning committee of the conference on consumer problems July 11 at University of California Extension, San Francisco. See COUNSEL, page 4

Marin Opens United Drive; Goal $150,000

'Every Good Guy Gives' Slogan Of Fund Campaign

"Every Good Guy Gives." With that for a slogan, volunteer workers in all divisions of the Marin United Crusade except residential solicitation today started their efforts to raise $150,000 to help support 18 charitable and service agencies in the county.

The Marin goal is part of an 11-million-dollar goal of the United Bay Area Crusade. Marin agencies each year receive more from the crusade than is contributed here, pointed out Edward W. Bullard, county chairman.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED
Hundreds of volunteers already have signed up for the campaign. But still more are needed, Bullard said.

"Our slogan, 'Every Good Guy Gives,' isn't just a wish," Bullard said. "It's a privilege. It's a great opportunity for every citizen to get that wonderful inner feeling that comes from carrying his own fair share of community responsibility. Our gift services 18 different agencies that perform thousands of charitable acts every single day in Marin County."

Stressing the need to go all-out for the crusade, Bullard declared: "Since 1955, business activity in the Bay Area has increased 26 per cent, but crusade contributions have increased only 4.5 per cent."

AGENCIES LISTED
Bullard listed these agencies depending on the crusade in Marin County:

Red Cross, Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Catholic Social Service, Catholic Youth Organization, Children's Home Society, Family Service Agency, Girl Scouts, Marin Assn. for Retarded Children, Marin Council of Community Services, Marin Jewish Community Center, Legal Aid Society, St. Vincent's School for Boys, Sunny Hills, Urban League, United Service Organizations and Young Men's Christian Assn.

The seven divisions which go under way today are commerce and industry, headed by Walter Carter; major firms, George Henderson; San Rafael business, Jerry Stone; business in other towns, Mrs. Louis Lundberg; public employees, Gen. R. E. Mittelsteadt; education, Virgil S. Hollis, and professional, headed by Roderick P. Martinelli and Dr. Dallas Wagner.

Already well under way is the advance gifts division, led by Fred Scatena.

The residential campaign, with Mrs. E. Gould Ingram as chairman, will start solicitation about the middle of October.

Marin Judges In Line For Pay Raises Jan. 1

The raises result from legislation passed at this year's session of the state Legislature, which adjusted judges' salaries in relation to population estimates.

Only Marin and Santa Barbara, out of the 58 counties in the state, are immediately affected, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk said.

State Controller Alan Cranston had requested the attorney general's opinion. He noted that under the Government Code formula, which sets a county's population as twice its registered voters in the last general election, Marin has a population of 124,214 and Santa Barbara has 120,844.

This year's Legislature changed the population base for judges' salaries so that counties with more than 100,000 but less than 250,000 population pay superior court judges $20,000 and municipal court judges $16,000.

Distraught Marin Educator Slays Estranged Wife, Self

San Rafael Residence Scene Of Shootings

By WAT TAKESHITA

Carl Joseph Tivel, 47, superintendent of the Larkspur Elementary School District, shot his estranged wife, Anna May, 39, to death last night in her San Rafael home, then took his own life with a second shot, police who were called to the home declared.

Four of their six sons, home at the time, ran in different directions for help when two shots rang out about 8:15 p.m.

The murder-suicide occurred in their large, three-story home at 548 Belle avenue. Police recovered the death weapon, a snub-nosed .38 revolver with two of six bullets spent.

The tragedy occurred just three weeks after a doctor and a psychiatrist had strongly recommended that Tivel be committed to an institution because he had definite suicidal and homicidal tendencies.

The doctors' warnings came to light today when police disclosed they had been called to the home on Sept. 8. At that time, Carl J. Tivel Jr., 23, had called for help, reporting his father had threatened to kill his mother.

Two doctors recommended that Tivel be committed. The matter was discussed among the Tivels' family lawyer, the district attorney and police, but action was postponed.

Mrs. Tivel and the boys fled to Atascadero to stay temporarily with a family friend, Hans Nygaard, who succeeded Tivel as superintendent of the school district there when Tivel came to Marin to be Larkspur superintendent in 1956.

San Rafael Police Officer Earl Christensen's report of the Sept. 8 incident shows that authorities intended to have Tivel committed if another disturbance occurred. "It will be decided later if Tivel is to be brought before a board of doctors for a hearing," the officer wrote at that time.

A four-page letter left by Tivel at the shooting scene last night indicated the superintendent might have been contemplating the double killing. Capt. Joseph Brusatori, who led the investigation, said the letter, scribbled in ink on pages of a yellow legal-sized ruled tablet, dwelt on reconciliation and included this line: "We both want to be interred in Marin County." The note was not dated.

On doctors' recommendation, the couple had separated about a month ago. About the same time Tivel was granted a leave of absence from his school duties at his request.

Captain Brusatori, Inspector Nick Giampoli, and Officers Eugene Frederick, John Kingston and Richard Douglas investigated the shooting. They gave this account of what happened:

After the separation, Superintendent Tivel had moved to a hotel in San Francisco, where he lived with son Brian, 20. Son Dennis, 18, is in the Navy serving on Guam. The other sons, who are living with the mother, are Carl Jr., 23; Roderick, 17; Royce, 16; and Elmer, 15. Roderick, Royce and Elmer attend San Rafael High School.

Last night, the father drove to San Rafael in Brian's sports car and began pleading with his wife to allow him to return. The boys were sitting in the dining room for dinner. Their father continued to plead for

Nikita's Off Again—This Time To China

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev took off for Communist China tonight just 30 hours and 26 minutes after returning from the United States.

He will take part in celebrations of the 10th birthday of the Peiping government.

He also is going to give Red

Chinese leader Mao Tze-tung a fill-in about his talks with President Eisenhower which the Peiping press has already hailed as a great contribution to world peace.

Khrushchev's plane was the giant TU114, the same turbo-prop which took him back and forth across the Atlantic.

Laundry Strike Threat Causes No Fear Here

The San Francisco Laundry Workers Union—which has members in six Marin County laundries—has threatened to shut down the entire laundry industry with a strike. It would be the first in the industry since 1901.

But most of Marin County's laundry owners are not worried over the strike possibility and don't feel their employees would follow San Francisco, they reported today.

WAGES BIG ISSUE
Local 26 of the union and the San Francisco Laundry Owners Assn. were reported deadlocked in negotiations in which the major issue is wages. Talks are to be resumed at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow, eight-and-one-half hours before the contract expires.

The Marin County members work under a separate contract which is now under negotiation. A union spokesman reported no difficulty was anticipated.

FIRMS INVOLVED

Affiliated with the union are employees at Elliott's Laundry and Cleaners, Sausalito; American-French Laundry, LaFare; French Laundry and Dry Cleaners, Major's and San Rafael Laundry in San Rafael and Fairfax French Laundry and Cleaners in Fairfax.

The union spokesman said a wage scale equal to what San Francisco now has was proposed for Marin employees.

Lawrence Palacios, president of Local 26, said the workers were dissatisfied with contract offerings of the Laundry Owners Assn. They now receive between $1.25 and $1.69 an hour.

The president said the public would be given 24 hours notice of any walkout.

SOVIETS WALK OUT ON U.N. CHINA SPEECH

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Representatives of the Soviet bloc staged a mass walkout of the U.N. General Assembly today when Nationalist China condemned alleged Chinese Communist atrocities in Tibet.

All members of the Soviet delegation and its eight satellites remained out of the Assembly chamber during the entire speech of Ambassador T. F. Tsiang, who pledged his government's support for a full U.N. debate on the Tibet question. (See story on page 7.)

Cornerstone Rites Held At Seminary

The cornerstone for the administration building of the new Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary on Strawberry Point was laid at noon today. President Harold K. Graves officiated.

The ceremonies began at 10 a.m. with addresses by Dr. E. Herman Westmoreland, president of the Southern Baptist seminary board, and other officials.

Dr. Westmoreland said the seminary has been established here because the leadership to the church demands training and scholarly attainments by the 300 men and women students there.

Extending a greeting from Marin County was Jack J. Craemer, managing editor of the Independent-Journal. Dr. John Raley, president of the Oklahoma Baptist University, gave the prayer of dedication and benediction as the cornerstone was cemented in place.

Season's 1st Big Storm Hits Rockies

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A September snowstorm buried the Rocky Mountain area today, smashing tree limbs and power lines, snarling traffic and leaving many homes, schools and business houses without electric power.

Four boys were missing on a camping trip in the mountains west of Denver.

Scores of schools were closed in areas close to the mountains north and south of Denver.

FIRST OF SEASON

The storm was the first of the season at lower elevations, an extension of storms that have left more than two feet of snow in some mountain communities.

The heavy, wet snow caught trees in full leaf and heavy branches cracked.

Power lines were dragged down. Live wires hissed and crackled, posing a danger to pedestrians slogging through the slushy snow.

Many streets in residential areas of Denver and other Colorado cities were so choked by fallen branches that automobiles were unable to get through.

18-INCH SNOW

At Leadville, 10,200 feet high in the mountains, 16 inches of snow fell. More than a foot already was on the ground there.

Heavy snow was reported at the mountain passes across the Continental Divide. Two and three-foot drifts were reported.

Between one and two inches of snow fell generally across Wyoming. Big Piney, in the western part of the state, was the nation's coldest spot today with a 12-degree reading.

Light Voting Reported On Merger Of Schools

As of noon today, voting was reported as exceptionally light at all seven polling places on the question of merger of Novato Unified and San Jose School District, with only 203 votes cast out of a total registration of 5,248.

Only at the Lynwood Elementary School in the San Jose district did officials report an increase over the activity at the last election in January on the same question.

At Lynwood, 40 of a registered total of 538 had cast their ballots by noon. At all other polling places, attendants estimated the number of voters to be about the same or less than last time.

In the January election, San Jose voters turned down the merger although it won approval in Novato.

At Loma Verde School in San Jose district, 23 out of 600 had voted by noon. At Novato High School, 14 out of 525 had voted; at West Novato School, 38 of about 1,000; at Hill School, 25 of 1,000; at Marion School, 32 out of 500, and at Olive School, 31 of 1,085.

The polls will remain open until 7 p.m.

ORIGINAL ROSS HOSPITAL GOES DOWN

The building that originally housed Ross General Hospital went under the demolition hammer yesterday as Plant Brothers, San Francisco contractors, started preparations for building a $192,556 two-story addition to the hospital on Sir Francis boulevard. Two 40-year-old buildings are being demolished to make way for the addition. One once housed the hospital, the other was a residence. (Independent-Journal photo)

Appeal Gets 3 Saxophones For Musicians

Not one saxophone but three have been provided for musicians in a potential band out at Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., in San Rafael.

This was response to a recent Independent-Journal appeal based on discovery that the current Guide Dogs class contains several musicians who lack instruments. They included a leader, Loyal A. West of Ogden, Utah, who needed a tenor sax.

"We're most grateful to the I-J and your generous readers," wrote Dora Perry, Guide Dogs press attaché. "Our students will really enjoy the jam sessions these make possible."

Miss Perry didn't reveal how the dogs are taking it all.

Dodger Scout Dies

INDIANAPOLIS (P)—John M. Corriden, 72, former major league baseball player, manager, coach and scout, died yesterday after a heart attack while watching the National League playoff game. Larry Sherry, Los Angeles pitcher and winner of the game, had been recommended by Corriden, a Dodger scout.

STOCKS TODAY

COMBINED AP & UPI
NEW YORK—The stock market staged a broad advance today in moderately active trading.

Motors and steels were prominent in the list with some leaders running up gains to two points or better. Some of the other groups, electronics, chemicals and rails were firm on balance.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,100,000 shares compared with 2,640,000 yesterday.

Key stocks kept gains running from fractions to a point or more while an increasing number of losers dotted the list.

Studebaker-Packard, much sought after, canceled a gain of more than a point and traded about unchanged late in the day.

General Motors and Chrysler held gains exceeding a point. American Motors was down a point.

SCREENING PROCEDURE

Committee Will Help Pick Hub School Man

The San Anselmo School District Board last night approved a screening procedure for hiring a superintendent when independent operations begins next year.

The procedure was worked out by Supt. Harold R. DePue and trustee Philip Bunschu.

It would set up a joint board, lay and professional screening committee with three objects: To develop job specifications for the position in conjunction with the board; to evaluate applications, and to refer a predetermined number of applicants to the board for its final selection.

The screening committee would consist of two board members, two laymen and two county school administrators appointed by the board, with a consultant who would be a college or university professor in educational administration, to advise the committee.

The board agreed to discuss suggested lay members at its next meeting Oct. 12.

Superintendent DePue reported that about 630 educational questionnaires has been returned out of 1,500 distributed to parents. He urged that the rest be returned immediately so tabulation can be completed.

The superintendent also told the board that three meetings on the tax increase effort had been held and others are planned Oct. 5, when a group of Wade Thomas School parents will visit the semi-departmental upper grade program in Kentfield, Oct. 7 at Brookside School, Oct. 8 at Isabel Cook School and Oct. 14 at Yolanda School.

The board approved employment of Mrs. Frances Abramson as first grade teacher at Wade Thomas School. She is a graduate of Dominican College with six years teaching experience.

Enrollment now totals 1,993, an increase of 21 in the last two weeks, DePue said.

Hamilton Man Retiring After Colorful Career

A man who first enlisted in the Army as field artillery private 42 years ago yesterday will see the last of his military service tomorrow when he retires at Hamilton Air Force Base as a lieutenant colonel.

Harold A. Reynolds is a master sergeant in the Air Force, but will retire with the rank he attained after World War II.

He has served as artillery officer, optician, army engineer, invasion glider pilot, Potsdam conference member, United Nations military observer, aerial photo interpreter, topographical engineer and intelligence specialist.

Among those he came to know personally during his years of military service are President Eisenhower, Winston Churchill, Gen. George S. Patton, President Harry Truman and Marshal Georgi Zhukov.

Eleven months after his initial enlistment, Reynolds was commissioned a second lieutenant. Discharged on Dec. 13, 1918, he went on inactive status with a reserve commission.

In 1921, with his father Guy W. Reynolds, he became one of the country's pioneers in the art of gliding and soaring and built what was reportedly the first primary glider flown in the United States.

In February, 1941, Reynolds again joined the Army Air Forces and crossed the Atlantic to England as assistant mapping officer.

He was an invasion gliderist with the first allied airborne

Business Bad, Chicken Rancher In Death Leap

A Napa chicken rancher apparently leaped to his death off the Golden Gate Bridge before midnight last night as two Marin County motorists tried in vain to reach him in time.

California Highway Patrol Officer Charles O. Woodworth identified the victim as Allan E. Moran, 49. The Coast Guard searched for an hour this morning without locating the body.

Officers related that Mrs. Moran said her husband saved for years to get enough money for a down payment on a chicken farm. A couple of years ago they got the farm and 3,000 chickens. But things did not work out. Moran kept losing money. He was forced to sell the last 200 chickens yesterday.

The couple has two children.

John J. Gibbons of 716 E street, San Rafael, told Patrolman Woodworth he was northbound on the bridge about 500 feet north of the south tower when he saw a southbound car stopped on the west edge with lights off. Someone was at the rail. As Gibbons swung around behind the car, he saw a man in a light jacket go into an "infantry roll" over the rail. Gibbons got off and

S.F. Waterfront Overhaul Urged

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—An engineering report submitted to the San Francisco Port Authority yesterday proposed a $38 million dollar overhaul of the city's waterfront.

It calls for scrapping most of the piers north of the Ferry Building, construction of a super cargo terminal and concentration of passenger ship service at two piers.

The modernization program was presented by Ebasco Services, Inc., employed to evaluate the best use of a 50 million dollar bond issue approved last year.

searched but found no one. Just then, Officer Woodworth arrived.

The other witness was Otto K. Bullwinkel of 118 Laurel drive, Fairfax. He was southbound on the bridge and spotted someone lying on the rail but could not stop his car because of others behind him.

There were no notes or registration in Moran's car. The highway patrol traced the owner through the license plates.

The Golden Gate Bridge toll now stands at 188 definite suicides, 76 possibles, and 119 attempts. If Moran's death is confirmed, it would be the 189th known leap from the span.

Sausalito Still Sans Postmaster

Sausalito is still without a permanent postmaster or without qualified applicants, according to word received by the Independent-Journal today from the U.S. Civil Service Commission in Washington.

Last May, Mrs. Dorothy E. Finn of Sausalito was appointed acting postmaster, succeeding Thomas M. Bradley, who retired. Her appointment followed a recommendation by the Republican County Central Committee.

The Civil Service Commission reported it had received six applications to take the examination for permanent postmaster but that "all six competitors failed to meet the minimum requirements for an eligible rating."

Mrs. Finn, who was one of the applicants, said today she had made no decision as yet as to whether she would again apply to take the examination.

The Civil Service Commission announcement said it will "reannounce" the examination in a few weeks.

French Air Officer To Visit HAFB

Gen. Edmond Jouhaud, chief of staff of the French air force, will visit Hamilton Air Force Base tomorrow in the course of a 15-day tour of study of U.S. Air Force installations.

General Jouhaud was captured by the Germans in 1940 and remained a prisoner of war until 1945. His promotion to the rank of general occurred last year.

Accompanying him will be Lt. Col. Lucian Jean Soula, chief of material programming, and Lt. Col. Jean Georges Louis Delahaye, aide, with Col. Robert A. Whitmore of the U.S. Air Force as escort.

Signup Fees Dropped For Play Activities

No registration fees will be charged for any recreation activities to be offered by the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission during its fall program, which starts tomorrow.

This was announced today by Bill Gordon, Twin Cities recreation director. He said 50-cent fees originally listed for five activities have been canceled.

Gordon also announced these other changes in the fall program:

Friday afternoon playground activities scheduled at Larkspur's unfinished Henry C. Hall School will be held at Eastman Hall, William and Holcomb avenues, Larkspur, until completion of the school.

For the same reason, the children's experimental theater, scheduled for Saturday mornings, has been shifted temporarily to Eastman Hall.

Third Generation Shoemaker To Open Shop In Greenbrae

Frank Lucchesi, a third generation shoemaker, will open a shoe repair shop Thursday at the Bon-Air Shopping Center in Greenbrae.

The business will be known as Frank's Perfect Shoe Repair.

At 21, Lucchesi is the youngest licensed shoe service proprietor in California. In business one year in San Francisco's Marina district, he decided recently to stake his future on the growth of Marin County.

Lucchesi's grandfather, a skilled shoemaker, emigrated to San Francisco from his native Italy shortly after the 1906 earthquake and fire. He established a shop which is still operated by his son, Frank's father.

Frank Lucchesi cut his first leather at the age of 13 under the tutelage of the two older craftsmen. Seven years later, he was ready to continue the family tradition on his own.

Tour Set Of Proposed College Site At Novato

Dates for the next inspection tour and public hearing on the proposed North Bay state college site were set today by the state Department of Finance and include another look at the Freitas ranch site in Novato on Oct. 12 at 2 p.m.

A hearing to receive protests or new information on the 10 remaining sites will be held at noon on Oct. 13 in the chambers of the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors.

Other locations still under consideration for the school include one at the redwood overpass in Sonoma, state hospital in Napa, Serrano ranch in Sonoma, Coblenz in Sonoma, old adobe site in Petaluma, Benson property in Cotati and three in Santa Rosa on the Baldocchi-Comalli property, in Bennett Valley and on the Lagomarsino property.

The list had formerly been reduced to seven by the inspecting board. Three were placed back on the list, however, after the board heard protests on their removal.

Present on the Novato inspection tour, according to Al Lerch, vice president of the Novato Chamber of Commerce,

The Goethals Bridge between Elizabeth, N. J., and Staten Island, N. Y., honors Gen. George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama Canal.

Man Pleads Guilty On Morals Charge

Cecil Curtis Sellers, 46-year-old Novato appliance repairman, pleaded guilty yesterday to contributing to the delinquency of a 7-year-old girl.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court appointed two psychiatrists to examine Sellers to determine whether he is a sexual psychopath. The doctors are scheduled to report their findings on Oct. 26.

Sellers was arrested Sept. 10 on a complaint of the girl's mother. She said the girl had been molested at Sellers' home.

BRAND NEW DEATH WEAPON—San Rafael Police Capt. Joseph J. Brusatori found this .38 revolver fully loaded, with two spent cartridges, under the body of Carl J. Tivel. He said it appears brand new. Police are trying to trace its registration. The bullets took the life of Tivel and his estranged wife, Anna May. (Independent-Journal photo) reconciliation. Mrs. Tivel went into the kitchen to do the dishes, with Tivel following. When Carl Jr. went into the kitchen, he saw his father pointing the Smith and Wesson revolver at his mother's head. The father told the boys "not to worry" and walked down to the basement with Mrs. Tivel.

The first shot rang out. As Carl Jr. ran for help, he heard the second shot. Royce ran out in stocking feet to a service station to call police. Elmer dashed to the family phone to summon a doctor.

Roderick saw his mother lying face up on the basement floor at the foot of the stairs. He saw his father enter the basement bedroom and heard the second shot.

Mrs. Tivel died with a bullet wound behind the right ear. Tivel lay on his right side with a bullet through the right temple. Police recovered the gun from under his body. The revolver was fully loaded, with two cartridges spent.

Tivel began his teaching career in the Los Angeles area, teaching in Alhambra, San Gabriel, and Mojave elementary schools. He was principal at Mojave.

He was superintendent of the Atascadero Elementary School District for six years before coming to Larkspur three years ago. Last June, his contract was renewed for another three years, with a raise in pay from $11,500 to $12,500 per year.

Mrs. Tivel was well known as a musician and piano teacher. Members of the Larkspur School District board expressed shock at the tragedy.

John R. Cunningham, chairman of the board, said: "We certainly—all of us—were tremendously shocked by it. It apparently was a combination of nervous and physical troubles—but mostly nervous, I think. As far as we are able to ascertain, this whole thing had nothing to do with the schools. I believe it was personal and fundamentally a family matter."

Last July 1, the Larkspur School Board hired Dr. Vaughn D. Seidel as assistant superintendent at a salary of $10,000 per year. Seidel had been Alameda County superintendent of schools for 28 years, failing of re-election last year. He was hired primarily to handle business matters for the school district.

When Tivel asked for leave of absence about a month ago, Seidel was named acting superintendent.

Mrs. Doris Barck, clerk of the board, expressing "great shock," said: "Our hearts and our deepest sympathy go out to the boys."

Seidel said he had "the highest respect for his (Tivel's) ability and his judgment."

In addition to his school administration job, Tivel was a member of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission.

The bodies are at Harry Williams Mortuary, pending funeral arrangements.

Solon To Open Demo Party's Fund Drive

Rep. Clement W. Miller will go right to work on his return to Corte Madera from Washington—raising money for the Democratic party.

The Marin congressman is scheduled to arrive home tonight. And tomorrow, he'll launch the 1959 "Dollars for Democrats" drive in his home precinct.

Accompanying the congressman on his house-to-house calls will be Mrs. Harry Black, precinct captain, and Mrs. Herbert Appenzeller from Marin Democratic headquarters.

The "Dollars for Democrats" drive will continue through Saturday. Marin chairman is Mrs. Mary Jo Gentes of Ross. District chairmen are as follows:

District 1, Mrs. F. F. Weiss of San Rafael; district 2, Mrs. Joel Nemschoff of Kentfield; district 3, Mrs. Kenneth Nelson and Mrs. Paul Rosenthal of Mill Valley and Mrs. Oliver Smith of Tiburon; district 4, Mrs. William Straus of Marshall; district 5, Mrs. Fred Volz of Novato.

One-third of the funds collected are to be used locally; one-third go to the Democratic State Central Committee to be held for use on behalf of candidates in the 1960 election, and one-third go to the Democratic National Committee.

Mrs. Nelson also was appointed secretary of the Citizens Committee on Development of Marin County by the board of supervisors.

She has been an economist with the price division of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, a women's personnel counselor, and unemployment insurance claims agent with the Department of Employment.

Mrs. Nelson received a B.A. from the University of Colorado, where she majored in economics, and an M.A. from Mills College. She did advanced graduate work at the University of California in economics and statistics.

Marin Man Jailed For Drunk Driving

Charles Jordan, 51-year-old Marin City gardener, drew 30 days in jail for driving while intoxicated on Francisco boulevard in San Rafael last Sept. 16.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court sentenced him Friday. Jordan gets credit for 10 days in jail which he had already served since his arrest.

He drew another 15 days in jail for violating a previous probation. He had been on probation since last July for petty theft. Jordan gave his address as House 657, Marin City.

Corte Madera Won't Waive Permit Fees

Developer Frank Rusaleem will be required to pay three Corte Madera building permit fees totaling $1,030 despite his contention that the town owes him $3,313, payable in such permits.

This was decided by Corte Madera town councilmen last night after hearing a report by Town Manager Arthur H. Brando.

Rusaleem claims the town's debt has been owed since 1946 for earth fill he placed on the

Airline Exec Faces Labor Code Charge

E. W. Ringo, 40, of 10 Kinross drive, San Rafael, vice president of Transocean Air Lines of Oakland, was arrested along with the president of the company yesterday on a charge of violating the state Labor Code by failing to pay employees.

Ringo and Orvis M. Nelson, 52, of Danville, president of the firm, each posted $840 bail on the misdemeanor charge. They were to appear in Oakland Municipal Court today.

Warrants were issued on a complaint by Donald L. Kosteff, a pilot, who claimed he is owed eight months back pay by the company. The Alameda County district attorney's office has received complaints that a total of 50 employees are owed amounts totaling $142,000.

generators, lanterns, canned heat and stored water.

Hospitals used auxiliary, emergency power stations and generators.

The first death reported was that of a man killed when a tree fell on his car on a storm-lashed road south of Charleston in the Beaufort area. The man's family escaped from the car.

All radio stations in the stricken area went off the air by mid-morning.

An amateur radio network went into operation aiding state police and civil defense authorities in disaster work.

Along the beaches, piers and pilings were crumpled like matchwood. Causeways and bridges from the low-lying islands were flooded at high tide early today and the winds pushed the water even higher until the storm's "eye" moved inland in early afternoon.

Reports from the beaches indicated extensive damage to cottages, homes and resort inns. At Savannah, Ga., which clocked near-hurricane force winds, falling power lines set fire to a fashionable home.

north side of Tamalpais drive, near Highway 101.

The debt, he says, was to be paid in the form of building permits for stores to be constructed at Corte Madera Shopping Center. The town has now collected $1,781 from him in permit fees.

But a 1946 council resolution agreeing to the unusual procedure for reimbursement did not constitute a valid contract between the town and the developer, Brando contended last night.

Furthermore, he said, evidence indicates a substantial portion of the Tamalpais drive fill was placed by the town through a private contractor at town expense. And Brando said a search of the records produced no certificate declaring the fill provided by Rusaleem had been placed to the engineer's satisfaction.

In other action at the three-hour and 50-minute session, the Corte Madera Council:

1. Discussed at length a proposal by the Marina Village Improvement Club for substantial modifications in plans for a levee to be built along the west bank of San Clemente Creek, but postponed decision until after an on-the-spot inspection at 1 p.m., Sunday.

2. Learned from Brando that Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael submitted the lowest of six bids, at $19,496, for reconstruction of Willow avenue from Tamalpais drive to a point near Chapman drive. High bidder was Brown-Ely Co., Greenbrae, at $23,765. Awarding of a contract was postponed one week in hope that the state Division of Highways will file no plan approving the work as a state gasoline tax project.

3. Deferred action on a request by Fire Chief Frank Nelson for removal of a column between archways in front of the town firehouse. Nelson said this would provide greater maneuverability for the town's new $19,000 fire truck.

4. Passed an ordinance of intention to abandon part of the town's easement on Portola way and set a public hearing for 8 p.m., Oct. 19.

Burning Police Car Brings Jail Term

Donald M. Frailey, 19, of San Rafael, son of a Western Greyhound Lines executive, must spend 60 days in county jail and pay for about $750 damages for slashing tires and burning a San Rafael police car last Aug. 26.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court yesterday sentenced Frailey for malicious mischief and for violating probation for a previous curfew violation.

The judge also put the youth on three years' supervised probation to follow his jail sentence. He is eligible for work furlough privileges.

His divorced parents were both in court yesterday. Melvin C. Frailey of Danville is vice president of Western Greyhound Lines. Mrs. Virginia Frailey lives with her son at 15 Blossom drive, San Rafael.

The youth began serving his jail term with stitches on wrist cuts which he suffered Saturday morning when he went berserk at his home. San Rafael police said he destroyed furniture at the home and slashed himself with a butcher knife.

OBITUARY

Developer Seaver Dies In Hospital

Talcott W. Seaver, 56, prominent Mill Valley real estate developer, died yesterday afternoon in a local hospital after long illness.

Seaver, who resided at 63 Shelley drive, Enchanted Knolls, Mill Valley, came to Marin County in 1955 from Los Angeles.

He developed the Enchanted Knolls subdivision at the eastern end of Mill Valley.

A native of New Haven, Conn., Seaver was a graduate of the University of California, class of 1925. He was a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Genevieve W. Seaver, Mill Valley; two daughters, Mrs. Sally De LaFontaine, Mill Valley, and Mrs. Janet Seaver Elliott of Los Angeles; his mother, Mrs. Grace Whittemore Seaver of Mountain View, and a sister, Mrs. Howard B. Crittenden of Atherton.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Inurnment will be private. The family requests that tributes be in the form of donations to the American Cancer Society.

Final Rites Set For Mrs. Purdy

Funeral services for Mrs. Mattie May Purdy, 86, who died Saturday at her home at 103 Shaver street, San Rafael, will be held tomorrow in Whittier.

A native of Illinois, Mrs. Purdy had lived in San Rafael the last four years.

Mrs. Purdy's son, Clarence A. Purdy, lived with his mother at her Shaver street home until his death four months ago. She was the widow of Fred H. Purdy. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Goldie Voiles of Ross and Mrs. Florence Buford of Compton.

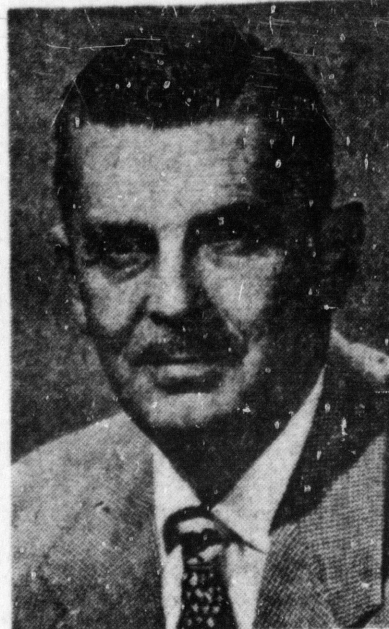

Local funeral arrangements were made by the Harry M. Williams Mortuary.

Airman Gets Jail In Marijuana Case

Airman 1/C Rogelio F. Castillo, 23, of the 78th Fighter Wing, Hamilton Air Force Base must serve 30 days in county jail and pay $300 fine for marijuana possession.

Castillo was caught with marijuana at a San Rafael bar last March 5.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court sentenced the airman today. Castillo got two years probation, on condition he serve the jail term and pay the fine. An additional six-month jail term hangs over his head if Castillo violates any of the probation terms.

Larkspur Pioneer Dies At Home After Long Illness

Jeremiah J. Shine, 83, pioneer resident of Larkspur, died at his home at 66 Heather way last night after long illness.

Shine was a retired employee of Pacific Gas & Electric Co. He worked for that firm 18 years following his resignation from the Marin Municipal Water District, for which he was a caretaker at Phoenix Lake before completion of Alpine Dam.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emily Shine, Larkspur; a daughter, Mrs. Mabel O'Connell of Larkspur; a son, Thomas Melvin Shine of San Rafael; a sister, Mrs. Margaret Miller; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday at Keaton's, San Rafael. Interment will be private.

William W. Baldwin Funeral Tomorrow

William W. Baldwin, resident of Novato for eight years and bartender at De Borja's Cocktail Lounge at 819 Grant avenue since 1957, died yesterday at a local hospital after a long illness.

Funeral services will be held at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home in Novato tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Baldwin, a member of Bartenders and Culinary Workers Union Local 126, was born in Jefferson City, Mo., on July 2, 1916.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Betty Baldwin, at the family home at 854 Pine street, Novato; a daughter, Mrs. Billie Jean Crane of Columbia, Mo.; a son, Donald E. Baldwin of Novato; two sisters, Mrs. Clifford Haymart of Novato and Mrs. Emil Perkins of Jefferson City, Mo., and a brother, Charles Baldwin of Kansas City, Kan.

Former Marinite Dies In Georgia

Mrs. Anna Rollins Adams, 78, who came to San Rafael shortly after the great earthquake and fire in 1906, died yesterday in an Albany, Ga., hospital after long illness.

Mrs. Adams, widow of George D. Adams, who died in San Rafael in 1950, moved to Georgia to live with her daughter in 1953 after nearly 40 years' residence here.

George D. Adams Jr., Mrs. Adams' only son, died in World War II when his plane was shot down over France. He was a gunner on a B24.

Mrs. Adams is survived by her daughter, Mrs. G. N. Dennis, Honolulu, and a brother-in-law, Joseph Bacigalupi, San Rafael.

Funeral services and burial will be in Albany.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS

From Everywhere

Crime Research
SACRAMENTO (AP)—In an effort to supplement state research activities, a group of California officials have joined to form a private research bureau on crime and delinquency.

Incorporation papers for the non-profit organization have been filed by Corrections Director Richard McGee, Youth Authority Director Heman Stark, two other state correction officers and a Sacramento attorney.

2 Die At Dentists
By U.P. INTERNATIONAL
Two children were reported today to have died in dentists' chairs. One may have died of fright, doctors said. Police said the other apparently drowned in his own fluids while under anesthetic.

Both deaths, one at Memphis, Tenn., and the other at Irvington, N.J., are under investigation.

'Back To The Cops'
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Three-year-old Ronald Palone of Dormont was lost for about three hours yesterday, causing the usual worry to both his parents and neighbors.

But Ronnie was far from worried. He was found sound asleep on a trolley and taken to a Pittsburgh police station where officers filled him with ice cream, taffy apples and cookies.

When the lad was finally united with his parents, all he could say was that he wanted to "go back to the cops."

Bandleader Divorced
SANTA MONICA (AP)—Skinny Ennis — the soft-voiced crooner and bandleader—used abusive language toward her, his wife testified in obtaining a divorce.

For example, said former singer Carmene Calhoun, he called her "stupid" and "crazy." The court granted her divorce yesterday on grounds of mental cruelty. Ennis didn't contest the suit.

Encephalitis Epidemic
TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Anxious public officials in southern New Jersey stepped up anti-mosquito efforts today, with the knowledge that encephalitis has probably claimed 12 lives.

The total number of suspected encephalitis cases has risen to 22 in an area covering the counties of Atlantic, Burlington, Cape May, Cumberland and Ocean.

Red Air Strength
SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The South Korean Defense Ministry force boasts 990 planes, including 810 jets.

The size of the South Korean air force had never been officially disclosed, but it is known to have two Sabre Jet wings totaling about 150 fighters.

Hoffa Defiant
WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa says he won't bring union ouster charges against three Teamsters chiefs as asked by the union's court-named overseers.

The Teamsters president also told reporters yesterday he can find only five Teamsters officials disqualified by criminal records from holding office under the new labor control law. He said they will be eligible again in January, and have been placed on leave of absence until then.

Solon Nearing 92
PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.), oldest man ever to serve in Congress, will be 92 Friday.

Death Ban Defeated
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The Pennsylvania Senate yesterday defeated 34-12 a proposal to abolish capital punishment in the state.

Ambassadors Briefed
WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department called in ambassadors of its 14 North Atlantic allies today to give them a detailed report on President Eisenhower's talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

This is an early move in the process of consultation which may lead to a summit conference later this year or early in 1960. A series of discussions over the next few weeks will determine whether, when and where a summit conference should be held or alternatively whether the Big Four foreign ministers should meet again soon to reopen negotiations in Berlin.

Seeks Separation
BRESCIA, Italy (AP)—The husband of opera star Maria Meneghini Callas is seeking the nearest thing to a divorce permitted in Italy—legal separation.

Giovanni Battista Meneghini, 62, filed suit against the temperamental, 35-year-old prima donna, saying the marriage was on the rocks "for reasons depending on the fault of the wife herself."

Italian law prohibits divorce. Even if a legal separation is granted, neither Meneghini nor Miss Callas would be free to remarry in Italy.

The suit did not mention Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis, whom Meneghini earlier blamed for the breakup of his 10-year marriage to the singer.

Executive's Rites Set
CHATHAM, Mass. (AP)—Funeral services will be held Thursday for Walter F. Munford, president of U.S. Steel Corp., who died yesterday four days after a cerebral stroke.

The 59-year-old executive, who started at the open hearth in 1923 and became Big Steel's $250,000-a-year president last May 5, suffered the stroke at Cape Cod Hospital, Hyannis, last Thursday.

He had been admitted the day before with a knife wound in the abdomen suffered when he slipped on a waxed kitchen floor and fell on a knife.

Ike Signs Last Bill
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has signed the $3,225,813,000 foreign aid bill. It also extends the life of the Civil Rights Commission for two years.

With its signing, Eisenhower completed action on the last of the bills Congress sent him before adjourning Sept. 15.

Donald Nelson Dies; Ex-War Board Chief

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Donald M. Nelson, former War Production Board chief and head of a motion picture producer's association, died today at the age of 70.

Nelson, who rose from a newsboy in Hannibal, Mo., to a top executive of Sears, Roebuck and Co., had suffered a stroke Aug. 23 at a party honoring him and his wife, Lena, whom he had married only last Feb. 12.

The dynamic business leader collapsed at the party given by Greta Peck, former wife of film star Gregory Peck.

The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed Nelson as head of the War Production Board during World War II, a post which he held for three years. When he resigned in 1944, Nelson was appointed as personal presidential representative to foreign governments.

After the war, he became president of the Society of Independent Motion Picture Producers and later was chairman of the board of the Electro-Chemical Research Co. of New York.

Polio Inoculation Clinic Set Tonight
An evening clinic for polio inoculation will be held at the Marin County Health Department, 920 Grand avenue, San Rafael, from 7 to 9 o'clock tonight.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer, said the clinic's purpose is to inoculate persons who cannot get to the regular afternoon clinics.

Something The Taxpayer Can Do About High Taxes

An aroused public can take the credit for pushing through effective labor legislation at the just-concluded session of Congress. Was this just a fluke? Or has the public actually awakened to the fact that what they say means something to their legislators?

In any event, if they have learned their lesson, perhaps they should look at the next project. It was given them last week by the director of the U.S. Budget.

Maurice H. Stans, the man who knows exactly where the country's money comes from and where it goes, had this to say:

U.S. taxpayers could win a tax cut without any reduction in military spending if they demanded economy cuts in other areas of government.

He's not just spewing a bunch of idle talk when he makes such a statement. What he is saying is that many of the dollars you pay to the federal government are spent wastefully and to no essential purpose. He can cite chapter and verse to prove it, too.

Each taxpayer can't talk to Stans and find out just where the cuts can be made. But each taxpayer can talk to his representative in Congress and to his senators in the upper house. He can tell these men that he wants and demands economy in government.

And the taxpayer can do still more. In a few months we are going to be smack dab in the middle of an election campaign. Each taxpayer will be hearing the campaign sweat nothingness which will spill out of candidates' mouths and press agents' typewriters.

Each candidate for federal office can be asked these questions: Just where, when and how much would you vote to reduce government spending? In what areas of government should reductions be made?

The taxpayer's responsibility goes a bit further. He must demand specific answers, not bland generalities.

If the U.S. taxpayer would react as vocally and as concertedly about economy in government as he did for adequate labor reform, Congress could cut taxes next year, even before the election.

There's Poetry In Grape Names

Now grapes are ripening on Marin vines and the aroma of the mature fruit fills the surrounding air on hot days.

It strikes us that grapes have marvelously poetic names. Names like Muscadine, Niagara, Concord, Catawba, Scuppernon and Vergennes, to name some of the American varieties. They have the melodious ring of vaguely remembered history.

And what images are conjured up by the names of some of the European varieties! Malaga, Zinfandel, Palomino, Grignolino, Gamay, Tokay, Barbera, San Gino. These are names to be rolled upon the tongue and savored like the wines which they produce.

Only Thompson's Seedless seems to suffer a utilitarian title and it is appreciated for its delicate and delicious fruit.

About 600 varieties are grown in California. Many of these can be grown with success in Marin, though others do better in the more intense heat of the inland valleys.

WHAT IS MAN WORTH?

The killing of 500 inmates of a concentration camp towards the end of World War II was recently admitted by a former Nazi officer.

In testimony before the state prosecutor at Fulda, Germany, he claimed that all those he killed were on the sick list. He said that a camp directive ordered that "useless eaters" should be destroyed.

When the totalitarian state derides the divine concept that each human being counts because he is made in God's image, it soon treats those who stand in its way with contempt and brutality.

The weak and infirm who, through no fault of their own, must look to others to sustain them find little mercy at the hands of those who maintain that man is only "another animal."

Champion in every way you can the divine worth of man. See that this sublime idea is taught in schools, recognized in government, upheld in the press and on the air and you will be doing something to prevent the helpless from being destroyed.

"God created man to His own image: to the image of God He created him."

Curriculum Guide Items An Affront

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

In view of the generous space given to school affairs of every nature from building contracts to bazaars, it seems an affront to the intelligence that the new Marin County curriculum guide, which is the heart of the matter, deserves no more than the most superficial appraisal.

Please now, let us have a report on the guide, on the guide itself.

No Banks Next In Mill Valley

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

I understand there will soon be no banks in Mill Valley! It's a new theory in police work and crime prevention. It was noted that after Teen-age Dances were abolished, hoodlums didn't cause any more trouble at them, in Mill Valley.

Since the good citizens have been worrying, "If our police are unable to cope with the merely blood-curdling threat of teenagers dancing, what in gracious sakes will happen if some Loathesome Creature invades the sanctity of our perfect little community with an honest-to-Pete Roscoe, intending to commit a real crime?"

One answer was obvious: Abolish banks, as that will at least take care of the bank robbers.

Other attractions for criminals will be abolished as fast as the colossal intellects of the City Fathers are able to think of them. Except the ones they enjoy.

Some thinking people believe that it may be possible to suppress virtually every imaginable form of nocturnal civil commotion by the ridiculously simple expedient of requiring everyone to be in bed (his own bed, it ought to be understood) by sundown. This will be a very dangerous cure for the general population, however, as it is a well-known fact that more people die in bed than anywhere else.

If these policies are actually carried out, Mill Valley could end up a Ghost Town. That would be a shame.

Curiously enough, since the more-than-well-publicized incident at the dance in Mill Valley, the Kustom Keys have played at two big Teen-age Dances, without a single noteworthy unpleasant incident, although, of course, they were held not in little sleepy Mill Valley, but in that huge vibrating Metropolis of the North, Corte Madera.

The first was given by the MarVal Athletic Club of San Rafael, (an out-of-town group, you'll note) and was attended by three or four hundred teenagers, on Sept. 5. The next was given by the Strip-Pacers, and was even bigger, with six or seven hundred there.

It would seem therefore that a booming metropolis of the size of Corte Madera is well able to present these affairs without difficulty, if it has adults who want to see the kids have a good time and are willing to work with them to achieve good results. The Corte Madera law enforcement officials and the local adults work very closely with the kids and offer freely of their experience and expert guidance, and their dances are a pleasure to all concerned.

It should always be remembered by our city councils that our police are paid a fixed sum monthly, without regard to whether they earned it easily, or the hard way.

The police will naturally favor anything that makes their job easier, as would any intelligent persons, and we certainly do not want to oppose their propositions thoughtlessly, in such a way as to give aid and comfort to hoodlums, as if we were promoting a tug-of-war. However, occasionally the police, thinking solely of their own convenience, or making the suppressing of hoodlum elements paramount to permitting the mass of the citizenry a lawful activity, simply because hood-lum elements try to take it over, step over that thin line and encroach on the individual's liberty.

It is, in my opinion, neither fair nor necessary to deprive kids of their dances. Instead, the police should concentrate on the troublemakers, with the view that this is America, where public gatherings by law-abiding people may be held.

Instead of suppressing the activity itself, they should ask the kids to be responsible for order as much as they can be, and when hoodlums whom the kids can't handle show up, the police should convince them that they should give up their usual goal of giving everyone in attendance a fat lip and a tomato nose, and start dancing. If this doesn't appeal to them, try arresting them. Or call Corte Madera.

One thing is sure. The hoodlums are always in such a small minority that if they are handled firmly and convincingly they'll soon go elsewhere for their excitement.

It isn't really necessary to burn down the banks.

Lesson In Making Hasty Judgments

EDITOR, Independent-Journal:

I have read and heard a great deal about the Khrushchev visit, but nothing more to the point than your editorial of Sept. 22, "Can We Blame Khrushchev For Misunderstanding Us?"

Your's is a simple, honest statement which makes it clear that we have done a good deal to mislead our visitor.

Perhaps a recognition of these confusions so easily created in a culture foreign to the observer, will make us hesitate to make hasty judgments about apparently strange goings on in countries foreign to us.

Lagoon Trouble Is Big Topic Around Corte Madera These Days

Corte Madera is plagued with lagoon troubles.

The town has two such bodies of water, both in the Madera Gardens tract. Their names, lagoon No. 1 and lagoon No. 2, are about as romantic as a dump, which some malcontents say they are (especially No. 2, the smaller one).

The latest troubles at the big lagoon started Sept. 5 when some alert waterfront home owners spotted — and smelled — sewage bubbling up from the depths near their backyards.

Corte Madera Sanitary District made two unsuccessful attempts to get at the ruptured, submerged sewer main, then called in a contractor to drain the lagoon. That job is still going on.

MEANWHILE, all is not rosy over at lagoon No. 2. The problem there is weeds, debris and stagnation. If you enjoy swimming or boating in an odoriferous swamp, it's just the place for your next outing.

One Corte Maderan who doesn't particularly care for polluted recreation is Vincent Misuraca, whose Birch avenue home is at the edge of the small lagoon.

"It stinks!" he cried at a recent meeting of the town council. "It's a disgrace to Corte Madera!"

Councilmen keep telling Misuraca and his fellow sufferers that the town's only responsibility for the lagoons is to maintain them as drainage — not recreational — facilities.

AND THE SUFFERERS keep telling the council the weed-choked lagoon is a potential flood hazard and an actual health menace.

"We can't afford to go out and hire a crew to clean that lagoon every six weeks, and I'm sure the town is trying to avoid that, too," said W. J. Miller, another sufferer.

All sorts of ways to correct the problem were advanced at last week's council session. "Dredge the lagoon," said one.

"Keep the water circulating," said another.

"Use chemicals," urged a third.

AND SO ON. Surprisingly, no one suggested filling the lagoon with earth and forgetting it ever existed.

Carl Goolis, a resident on the big lagoon, said he and his neighbors once directed an inquiry to the University of California about possible ways of keeping the water free of weed growth.

The reply, said Goolis, mentioned "some kind of chemical that kills everything as far as five feet up the bank, and some kind of duck that is found only in northern areas and wouldn't survive here."

Wishing neither to destroy their waterfront gardens with chemicals nor import ducks doomed to die in the balmy Marin climate, residents of the big lagoon came up with a practical compromise.

Said Goolis: "We pull the weeds out by hand."

Plans Progressing Rapidly To Move, 4,000 Prisoners To Camps

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Plans for removal eventually of approximately 4,000 men from state prisons into conservation camps, where they will be used for constructive work in California's forests, grasslands and deserts, are advancing about as rapidly as possible, officials of the State Department of Corrections report.

Last April, the Department of Corrections reported it had about 1,000 men in camps throughout the state. The plans requested by Gov. Edmund G. Brown asked that this be stepped up to approximately 5,000 at the end of a four-year period.

ALREADY, correction officials state, the camp count is 1,566 men. While this is a sizeable dent in the prison population, it actually has little effect on over-crowded conditions in some of the state's institutions.

Five camps have been put into operation since last April. These are located at Crystal Creek, Shasta county; Puente la Cruz, San Diego county; Chamberlain Creek, Mendocino county; Harvey Valley, Lassen county and Ice Spring, Glenn county. The last two camps are being operated in conjunction with the United States Forest Service.

AND IN ADDITION, three more camps are under construction, at Pilot Rock, San Bernardino county; Los Gatos Canyon, Fresno county, and Plum Creek, Tehama county. Land acquisition is under way in Susanville, Lassen county area, where one of the major camps will be located. This camp is planned to accommodate 500 men when it opens and expand to 1,000 men at its peak.

Sites are being investigated in the Mono-Inyo county and Tuolumne county areas. Each of these camps will accommodate 500 men when they finally are put into operation.

PUTTING A PRISON camp into operation, correction officials explain, is not a feat that can be accomplished overnight. Many steps must be taken before construction is started.

First, a site must be discussed with residents of the area in which the camp is to be located, and then the site must be acquired. Ground planning follows; building plans must be drawn; utilities must be planned, etc.

While these steps are being taken, it is necessary for the department to select personnel to operate the camp, and give special training for this type of work.

Finally, there is the selection of the prisoners who are to be assigned to the camp, a procedure which normally takes some time.

GENERALLY, PRISON officials say, the accomplishment of transferring 4,000 men in a four-year period can be considered reasonably fast.

The camp program, however, will not eliminate all the over-crowding problem at the state prisons, although it will relieve the situation considerably. This is taking into consideration the construction of new facilities which will house 2,400 men, now being completed in the San Luis Obispo area.

U.S. Ready To Act In Steel Strike If Ike Gives Order

COMBINED AP & UPI
WASHINGTON—The Justice Department today was reported gearing for quick action if President Eisenhower decides to invoke the Taft-Hartley law emergency provisions to stop the 77-day steel strike.

The President has called in top industry and union leaders to separate White House conferences tomorrow morning in a final effort to get fruitful bargaining without resort to the Taft-Hartley law provisions.

Officials said privately, however, they doubt that even a personal appeal from the President will budge the industry and the striking United Steelworkers Union from their pole-apart positions.

U.S., Britain Discuss Talks With Soviets

LONDON (UPI)—Britain and the United States opened talks on the future negotiations with Russia immediately after Nikita Khrushchev left Washington, the Foreign Office said today.

A spokesman said the consultations were being extended to other Western allies, notably France and West Germany, and that other NATO nations were being kept informed.

Britain has received a full report of the Camp David discussions between President Eisenhower and the Soviet leader. The British ambassador in Washington, Sir Harold Caccia, sent back a detailed report on the latest developments.

The first round of consultations has to establish:

1. The type of East-West meeting which is to negotiate on the basis of the Camp David communiqué.
2. The agenda for such a meeting.
3. The place and the timing.

January-July Baby Crop Sets All-Time Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—More babies were born in the United States during the first seven months of 1959 than in the corresponding period of any prior year.

There were 2,434,000 registered births during the January-July period this year, compared with a previous high of 2,420,000 in the corresponding 1957 months, the Public Health Service reported.

The estimated 378,000 live births in July, however, were not a record for any July though they exceeded the 1958 total of 366,000 by 3.3 per cent. The July record was set at 384,000 in 1957.

Marriages and divorces continued to increase during July, the service also reported.

Ike Sets Oct. 11 As Pulaski Day

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower has proclaimed Oct. 11 as General Pulaski Memorial Day.

This is the day to honor Count Casimir Pulaski, a Polish army officer who joined the army of George Washington and fought with the Americans in the Revolutionary War.

Commanding an army corps, Pulaski died Oct. 11, 1779 after leading an attack to relieve the British-held city of Savannah, Ga.

New Radiation Belt Found By Satellite

WASHINGTON (AP)—A third belt of intense radiation around the earth has been discovered by America's paddle wheel satellite. It adds a potentially dangerous new hurdle for any future space traveler.

The new radiation belt is closer to the earth than the two previously discovered Van Allen belts and it is not as thick.

"You wouldn't want to orbit a satellite at that altitude, and if you did it would get pretty contaminated," said Dr. John Simpson, University of Chicago physicist.

But since the third belt is only 310 miles thick, he added, it would mean "just the flick of the meter" as a space vehicle shot through it. It starts 1,000 miles above the earth.

The outermost Van Allen belt—they are named for their discoverer, Dr. James Van Allen of the University of Iowa—extends from 8,000 miles to 12,000 miles above the earth.

The second Van Allen belt starts at 1,400 miles and extends to 3,400 miles.

IKE WILL TRY TO SHAKE COLD IN PALM SPRINGS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower plans to fly by jet plane tomorrow afternoon to Palm Springs for an eight-day sunny climate treatment of a nagging cold, the White House announced today.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President would stay at the home of George E. Allen, long-time Eisenhower friend, at La Quinta, about 15 miles from Palm Springs.

Hagerty said that the President hopes to take off from Andrews Air Force Base late tomorrow afternoon and depending on the weather, should arrive at the Palm Springs airport at about 5 or 6 p.m. PST.

The plans call for the President to fly to Allen's home by helicopter.

Hagerty noted that the weather forecast for the Palm Springs area was "clear, warm and sunny."

That's the kind of weather the President's doctors have advised to shake the cold that has bothered him since his return from Europe earlier this month.

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday that he hoped to get in a few days in a warm dry climate.

Outlook Dim For End To Algeria War

PARIS (AP)—The outlook for an early end to the bitter Algerian rebellion appeared as gloomy as ever today.

A rebel proposal to meet with President Charles de Gaulle failed to draw any immediate response from the French president. First unofficial reaction was hostile.

The provisional rebel government announced yesterday it is ready to discuss a ceasefire and details of de Gaulle's promise of self-determination for Algeria's nine million Moslems.

The carefully worded statement was in reply to de Gaulle's Sept. 16 declaration spelling out a new course for the rebellious North African territory.

Some observers feel the rebel proposals will be totally unacceptable to de Gaulle.

Free China Condemns Red Tibet Atrocities

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI)—Nationalist China condemned the Communist Peiping regime today for its atrocities in Tibet and the slave labor commune system on the Red-held mainland.

Nationalist Ambassador Tingfu F. Tsiang said his government welcomed the opportunity for full debate in the United Nations General Assembly on the Communist excesses.

Tsiang also formally repeated for the U.N. record Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's pledge of last March 26 that Tibetans will be granted the right of self-determination and when the Nationalists recapture the China mainland.

"The atrocities committed by the Communists in Tibet are even more abhorrent to the Chinese people than they are to the international committee of jurists," Tsiang said. "From this rostrum, as representative of China, I declare that free China condemns the Communist atrocities in Tibet and welcomes any proposal to examine them in the present session of the assembly."

Tsiang referred to an investigation of the Tibet situation carried out by an impartial international lawyers' committee under Indian chairmanship which condemned Red China's bloodbath in the kingdom ruled by the now Red-exiled Dalai Lama.

Ireland and Malaya last night submitted a request for a full assembly debate on Red China's suppression of civil rights and religious liberties in Tibet. The assembly's steering committee was expected to consider it later this week.

Conjugal Visit Plea By Wife Of Spy Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government has rejected an appeal by the wife of a convicted atom spy to live with him in Atlanta Federal Prison long enough to conceive a child, the Justice Department said today.

The wife of Morton Sobell petitioned Federal Prison Director James V. Bennett last April for permission to join her husband. Sobell was a member of the spy ring headed by Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who were executed.

Bennett turned down the request on grounds that the federal prison system did not permit conjugal visits by the wives of prisoners. Inmates and their wives are permitted to have marital relations in some foreign prisons, including those in Mexico.

Mrs. Sobell had requested that her petition not be made public at the time it was presented.

Sobell, who started a 30-year prison term in 1951, has a 10-year-old son and a 20-year-old stepdaughter. The 42-year-old New York electrical engineer was held at Alcatraz until 1958, when he was transferred to Atlanta.

Sobell has sought a new trial several times, claiming his conviction on charges of conspiracy to send atomic secrets to Russia was based on perjured testimony.

Pay Own Insurance Or Lose Benefits, Strikers Warned

CHICAGO (UPI)—Swift and Co. notified striking employees today they face loss of hospital, medical, surgical and polio insurance if they don't pay premiums due tomorrow.

The company sent letters to the strikers notifying them that insurance premiums, paid by the company up to the end of this month, must thereafter be paid—in advance—by employees who are not on the job.

"It is unfortunate that these payments must come out of your pocket at a time when you can least afford it," the letters said. "This would not have been necessary if you had not been away on this needless strike."

More than 19,000 members of two big unions struck the meat packing company Sept. 4 to enforce demands for higher wages, establishment of a fund to cushion the impact of automation, and a number of fringe benefits.

Federal mediators said negotiations to settle the dispute were at a standstill today.

Town Pledges Only Routine Lagoon Care

Starting next month, the town of Corte Madera will perform routine winter maintenance of lagoon No. 2 in Madera Gardens to insure its satisfactory operation as a flood control and drainage facility.

This was the best that residents of the weed-clogged lagoon could be promised last night by the town council and Town Manager Arthur H. Bradow.

"We're doing what we think is necessary for flood control. Aside from that, the lagoon is your problem," Mayor Roger F. Morse told a vocal of about 15 citizens.

CONTENTION DISPUTE

Bradow disputed the delegation's contention that heavy weed growth in the lagoon is a flood hazard.

He said that during the winter maintenance season, Oct. 15 to April 15, town forces will keep the water at a low level, flush the lagoon one to three times a week and, periodically, clear away large debris such as lumber.

Flushing has been impossible in the last two months, Bradow declared, because of an earth "slip-out" in Corte Madera High Canal, where it passes through the Fifer industrial tract. The canal, into which the lagoon drains, is now clear, he said.

ASSURANCE GIVEN

Councilman Walter S. Long drew from Bradow assurance that he will seek council authorization to have the lagoon dredged if he deems it a necessary flood control measure.

At next Monday's council meeting, Bradow is scheduled to report on possible methods, chemical or otherwise, by which waterfront residents might rid the lagoon of weeds.

Only one member of the lagoon delegation expressed unqualified approval of the town's course of action.

"Personally," said Mrs. Laurence J. Baciagalupi of 89 Lakeside drive, "I will be satisfied if the town will clear the debris, advise the residents on chemical treatment and let us take it from there."

Bondsmen's Hearing Likely To End Today

Hearing on charges against two Marin County bail bondsmen, James V. Stragnola and Joseph Pecora of San Rafael, was expected to conclude today in San Francisco before Jerome Herst as hearing officer of the division of administrative procedure of the state Insurance Commission.

The hearing opened yesterday. The insurance department, represented by Wallace Scales as attorney, put on three witnesses. The two respondents testified in rebuttal. Four more witnesses were expected during today's hearing.

These hearings followed earlier hearings of James Joseph Shelley, San Anselmo bail bondsman accused of improper efforts to influence members of the Marin County sheriff's office. Harold Furst, who acted as hearing officer, disqualified himself for the Stragnola-Pecora hearings because Shelley made many allegations which were expected to come up in the subsequent case.

But Shelley, whose license was recently temporarily suspended by F. Britton McConnell, insurance commissioner, did not press these matters, and allegations against Stragnola and Pecora have been of technical nature. They include failure to give notice that a suit had been filed; delay in reconveyance of bail without proper request from defendants.

Technical legal questions have been raised by the respondents in their defense.

On conclusion of the hearing, Herst is expected to send a proposed decision to McConnell, who will then announce a final decision.

FUSSELMAN OBJECTS

Auditor's Former Aide Will Return To Post

By RANDALL GOULD
California warmth wasn't conspicuous as the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday prepared to welcome Arleigh Sewell back from frigid Alaska to his former job as tabulating supervisor of the county data processing bureau.

County Auditor Leon A. deLisle, learning that, after a few weeks of the rigorous north, Sewell would like to come back, had prepared a package deal to reinstate Sewell, "bump" his successor, John L. Gibb, back to the No. 2 spot, and find room for Gibb by a change in status for George M. Okada.

He put it over, but only after lengthy discussion.

When, after nearly two hours of talk, the proposal came to a vote, Supervisor William D. Fusselman was the lone holdout. He had expressed skepticism as to whether Sewell's return would insure "procedures" not achieved before his July departure.

"I can't believe he's the only man in the Bay Area competent to do what we want done," said Fusselman of Sewell.

Though finally voting to back deLisle's plan, chairman Walter R. Castro, mentioned that Sewell's departure last summer was without notice to the board.

DeLisle explained that, as Sewell hadn't been a department head, protocol required no such notice.

A letter from DeLisle noted that Gibb, present tabulating supervisor, is still in his six months probationary period and that the auditor feels that "though he is an excellent assistant tabulating supervisor, he does not meet the needs of the job."

It was therefore recommended that he return to assistant, in which he has permanent status. "It was further recommended that Sewell be re-employed at $710 a month."

Okada has been employed as assistant tabulating supervisor. So it was recommended that he be moved to an "extra-hire position at $3.21 per hour... the same hourly rate he is now receiving."

DeLisle was asked to explain his position more fully, especially a reference to evidence of increased efficiency through mechanization. Fusselman said that so far the board has been treated to opinions rather than facts as to efficiency.

Gibb, Fusselman said, shouldn't be judged as to final accomplishment without enough time to "pick up the job."

Fusselman insisted that "it would be only fair to give Gibb adequate time to assume his responsibilities."

DeLisle said he had one figure, showing that without the new machines he would have needed three more accountants at an aggregate cost of $18,000. Fusselman retorted that, according to those who made the equipment, it's "idle 50 per cent of the time."

After an expression of "regret that this is going to appear in the paper" deLisle declared, "I've done pretty well in my employment and the responsibility is mine to get the jobs done."

Castro commented, "We have to take the recommendations of a department head but if we get a wrong steer it reflects back on elected officials."

The motion to back deLisle's proposals was made by Supervisor James A. Marshall, seconded by Supervisor Vera L. Schultz, and approved 4-1.

Lucas Valley Road Project Bids Invited

The state Division of Highways has called for bids on the job of realigning and widening a mile-long stretch of Lucas Valley road from Highway 101 to Miller Creek road and grading of six-tenths of a mile between Miller Creek and Sequiera roads.

Bids have been called, the Division of Highways announced, after learning that the federal highway trust fund is to be replenished through a one-cent increase in the federal gasoline tax.

The road improvements will cost a total of $185,000. There is $105,723 available in federal aid. State matching funds come to $75,627, and county funds, $3,850.

Advertising for these and a long list of other State road projects was halted Aug. 5 because of shortages in federal highway funds.

WEAPON WORKS FINE—IF IT'S AIMED RIGHT

Mrs. Gisel K. Singelmann of the Southern Marin Recreation Center in Tiburon tried out a new shotgun yesterday. Worked fine.

Her first idea was to hit a tin can set up as target, according to husband Rolf Singelmann.

But sighting at the can, she perceived a cow in the distance. So she prudently lowered the muzzle of the gun. After which she absently pulled the trigger.

Buckshot were picked out of her legs at Marin County Hospital.

Pope Calls For World Peace Prayer

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope John XXIII issued an encyclical today calling for worldwide Rosary prayers for world leaders to overcome their differences and reach "peace and concord among nations."

The pope invited the Sacred College of Cardinals, Bishops and priests, the sick and the suffering, innocent children and "all the Christian world" to join him next month in this supplication.

The encyclical to the Roman Catholic Episcopate of the world was the third to be issued by Pope John.

HANLEY'S REPORT

Cepeda To Play LF This Winter

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO—A few additional post-season notes before the World Series starts: Hank Sauer is moving to San Francisco from the peninsula and will join Tom Sheehan's scouting staff for the Giants.

Orlando Cepeda will play winter ball again in the Caribbean circuit along with some of his Giant teammates. This time Cepeda will play left field instead of first base. This is the tipoff that the Giants plan to open next season with Willie McCovey at first.

Willie Mays has been requested by Horace Stoneham not to play winter ball. Mays readily acceded to the request of the man "who has been very good to me." Mays will play in three exhibition games with Mickey Mantle's All-Stars. Stoneham agreed it was only proper that Mays should fulfill his commitment to Mantle.

SOMETIME during the winter Mays intends to move "down the valley." That's the way he always has referred to the peninsula although he now could mean precisely what he says by moving into the Santa Clara Valley. He plans to sell his San Francisco home because the St. Francis Wood weather adversely affects the sinuses of his wife, Margherite.

The little finger of Mays' left hand will get swift treatment if X-rays disclose it actually is broken. Mays jammed it six weeks ago diving back to first in an attempted pick off play, but refused until now to have it X-rayed. He feared that a splint would be ordered for it, automatically putting him out of the lineup in the pennant drive.

MICHAEL Francis McCormick, known as "The Kid" to his teammates, is no longer a kid. He is 21 years old today. With any kind of luck, Mike should have had a half dozen more victories this season. There was a three-game stretch during which Mike pitched four-hit ball in each game but didn't get a decision. Two of those games were 1-0 losses, one to St. Louis on Sept. 7, the other to Philadelphia in Sept. 11.

In the other game, Mike two-hit the Cubs until the ninth when he was lifted for Sam Jones after Tony Taylor and George Altman singled. That was on Sept. 2 in Seals Stadium. Jones couldn't save that game for McCormick although the Giants won it in the bottom of the ninth on Jackie Brandt's homer.

THERE WAS one other Giant-Cub game which turned out the same way in mid-season, with Mike doing most of the work and Jones getting the win credit as a late-inning stopper.

Jones never was particularly proud of those wins, saying to Mike, "I'm sorry, really sorry, kid, I couldn't save them."

Then, there was that fatal third time when Jones relieved McCormick in the eighth a week ago in Chicago and Altman smashed that two-out, two-run ninth inning homer for a 5-4 Cub victory that pushed the Giants two full games back of the Braves and Dodgers with only four to play.

Sam and the rest of the Giants were as sad and low as a ball club can get after that crushing blow, but Sam's sorrow was not the self-pity kind. "Again," he said, "I couldn't save it for the Kid."

READY FOR SECOND PLAYOFF GAME—Right-handers Don Drysdale, left, of the Los Angeles Dodgers, and Lew Burdette, right, of the Milwaukee Braves, were to be the starting pitchers in the second game of the National League playoff in Los Angeles today. Drysdale, the league's strikeout leader with 239, has a 17-13 won-lost record, while Burdette has a 21-15 won-lost record for the season. (AP Wirephoto)

Grimm Will Manage Cubs For 3rd Time

CHICAGO (AP) — Charlie Grimm is back for the third time as manager of the Chicago Cubs.

Club owner Phil Wrigley announced yesterday that Grimm, 61, will succeed Bob Scheffing, 44, at the Cubs' helm. Scheffing, who resigned after three years in the post, guided the National League club to a seventh place tie and two fifth place ties.

Grimm, who also will keep his job as a vice president of the Cubs, first managed the team in 1932 when he succeeded Rogers Hornsby. He was replaced in 1938 by Gabby Hartnett, but returned to the post in 1944, taking over from Jim Wilson. Grimm was out again in 1949 when Frankie Frisch was named manager.

Wrigley said Scheffing will remain in the Cub organization, probably as manager of one of the team's minor league farms.

Double Bill In Ring At Richmond Tonight

RICHMOND (UPI) — Clarence Williams of Hayward and Joe Sullivan of San Francisco tangle tonight in one end of a 10-round double feature at the Richmond auditorium.

In the other 10-round bout, Vic Chardot will meet Irish Jimmy Smith in a battle of Oakland lightweights.

Confident Dodgers Attempt To Sew Up Pennant Today

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The quietly confident Dodgers, with one playoff victory already in the bag, returned to Los Angeles today. They need only one more triumph over defending champion Milwaukee for their first National League pennant since 1956.

A 3-2 victor in Milwaukee yesterday, Dodger manager Walter Alston appeared to be in the driver's seat. He had his ace, Don Drysdale, set to pitch the second game of the best-of-three against the Braves, a team he has beaten 11 times in 15 lifetime decisions.

Even if the Braves should upset the dope and hang a defeat upon the redoubtable Dodger righthander, Alston still has Roger Craig, currently the hottest pitcher on his staff, for a playoff game tomorrow.

BURDETTE TODAY

Manager Fred Haney in a last-ditch battle to keep the Braves' flickering hopes alive, also went with his best righthander. Haney pinned his hopes on Lew Burdette, a 21-game winner.

Haney, whose theme all season long was "we'll play them one at a time," declined to say who would pitch the third game should the Braves pull even but it was regarded as a certainty that his choice would be Bob Buhl, a Dodger tamer from 'way back.

Haney gambled and lost in the opener although he got a well-pitched game from Carl Willey, who has won only five games all year.

Fred had been expected to open with Burdette but a look at the past performance sheet shows why he didn't. Fidgety Lew has a 2-11 lifetime record against the Dodgers at Milwaukee. He is 2-0 against them at Los Angeles this year.

TRIED TWICE

A crowd of 50,000 or more was expected to turn out at the Coliseum, where day games are a rarity. If the game were to be played at night it is conceivable that close to a sellout crowd of 90,000 would attend in the hope of seeing the Dodgers finally win a playoff after two previous failures.

In 1946, they lost two straight to St. Louis and five years later they dropped the rubber game of a three-game series to the New York Giants on Bobby Thomson's famed homer.

The Dodgers got a brilliant pitching exhibition from rookie Larry Sherry in Milwaukee yesterday. Manager Alston summoned Sherry from the bullpen to replace his surprise starting choice, Danny McDevitt, when the left-hander ran into trouble in the second inning.

Sherry, a 24-year-old right-hander brought up from St. Paul in July, stopped the Braves cold after they had forged ahead 2-1, handcuffing them with four harmless singles over the last 7½ innings. He throttled Milwaukee's big guns, holding Eddie Mathews, Henry Aaron and Joe Adcock hitless.

HOMER WINS

The Dodgers tied the score in their half of the third and won the game in the sixth on catcher Johnny Roseboro's home run over the right-field fence.

The Dodgers played without Duke Snider, their leading hitter. The veteran center fielder, still hobbled by a bad left knee, was a doubtful starter today. Don Demeter, Snider's replacement, got one of the Dodgers' 10 hits off Willey and Don McMahon. Norm Larker, who took over Snider's cleanup spot, collected three hits and drove in a run. Gil Hodges singled in the other Dodger run.

The Braves, mired in a batting slump for a week, were hopeful of snapping out of it at Los Angeles, where they have won 6 of 11 this year.

"We've been coming from behind all year," said Haney, "and now we have to keep doing it."

FEW HITS

"We just got beat. We can't win ball games on six hits. We couldn't come up with the big one when we needed it."

Haney said he probably would make a change in his lineup, starting Frank Torre, a lefthanded hitter, instead of Adcock at first base, and Lee Maye, another southpaw swinger, in place of Andy Pafko in left field.

Alston, a man of very few words, remained his cautious self.

"I admit we've got the edge," he said. "But we still have to win one more. They're still tough to beat."

WINNING RUN—Dodgers' catcher John Roseboro scores after hitting home run in sixth inning of pennant playoff series opener yesterday. Batboy meets him. The homer over right field fence broke a 2-2 tie and won the game for the Dodgers, 3-2. (AP Wirephoto)

Stanford Gridders Work On Defense

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Stanford works to improve its defenses this week as the Indians prepare to battle College of the Pacific and its fast and elusive halfback Dick Bass.

Coach Jack Myers of COP told the Northern California Football Writers and Broadcasters Assn. yesterday that Bass would be ready to play in the game at Stanford.

The halfback, who led the nation in rushing, total offense and scoring last season, pulled a leg muscle in a pre-season drill and was hampered by muscle cramps in the opener against Colorado State.

Stanford's Coach Jack Cur-

tice took note of the COP running attack when he declared, "A big question is how we can hold up against the best back in the country."

"They'll be looking forward to trimming us. They polished off Cal last year and would like to have an Indian scalp."

Stanford now has lost two close ones, by one point to Oregon and by two to Wisconsin. In the latter, quarterback Dick Norman's passing and the receiving of Ben Robinson and Chris Burford among others, sparked a second half rally.

"At one time Norman changed hands and threw one left handed," Curtice recalled. "And once he threw with both hands."

U.S., Russ Teams Vie In Pentathlon

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Teams from the United States and Soviet Russia battle for the lead today in the fourth round of the five-sport modern World Pentathlon being held in this central Pennsylvania resort community.

With only the cross-country running competition left tomorrow, the underdog Americans hoped to protect their slim 7,664-7,560 lead over the Russians in today's swimming event.

But the Russians still were heavy favorites to retain the world title they won last year in England. They were expected to make a strong showing in the last two events.

Air Force Golf Play Under Way

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A former U.S. Golf Assn. junior champion held a slim lead going into today's second round of the Air Force Worldwide Golf Tournament.

Lt. Foster G. Bradley of Greenville Air Force Base, Miss., shot a two-under-par 69 yesterday, followed by S/Sgt. Paul N. Koon of Tinker AFB, Okla., with a 70.

Leading the senior division with a 73 was Maj. Gail Vogel of Hamilton AFB, Calif.

Giants Ready To 'Bury' Rigney? Stoneham Won't Say Yes Or No

Plenty of times in my life I've needed a lift, a pat on the back, a consoling word, in other words, HELP in the clinch.

That is what Bill Rigney, manager of the Giants, needs right now. Whether he knows it or not, they are getting ready to tuck him under, throw dirt in his face; in other words bury him. Sure, they'll probably keep him in the organization, either as head of the Giants' farm system or travelling secretary — just something other than boss man of the Giants on the playing field.

Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants, is shadow boxing with reporters. Last week he slyly sidestepped questions about Rigney by stating, "The season isn't over yet." I think he'd be better off and gain more respect from the fans if he came right out and said Rigney will or will not be back in 1960 as manager of the Giants.

Why Stoneham has any license to question the work of Rigney is puzzling, in view of circumstances.

To begin with, Rigney is not a high-priced manager. He is a fellow who does what the boss says, and does it willingly.

RIGNEY KEPT Andre Rogers in the Giant lineup because Horace Stoneham thought he had a great prospect and one who wasn't too expensive.

Rigney listened to Stoneham when he traded Bill White, a first sacker, to St. Louis for Sam Jones. It wasn't the smartest thing to do but it was about the only way Rig could get a starting pitcher of any merit.

Rigney went for the deal that sent Ruben Gomez and Valmey Thomas to Philadelphia for Jack Sanford. I don't think Bill regrets that trade.

Rigney had a lot to do with Al Worthington coming back to the Giants when he almost decided to quit. Worthington looked like a terrific reliever in 1958 after winning 11 games.

But Worthington was one of the biggest, saddest disappointments Rigney had in 1959. He fell flat on his face and proved Stoneham was right in not wanting to raise his salary.

RIGNEY wanted Ramon Monzant back as a relief pitcher, but the vice-president of the Giants, Chub Feeny, didn't think it worth while. And in my book that decision cost the Giants the possibility of winning the pennant.

Monzant was so much better than Gordon Jones, Eddie Fisher and the rest of them. It isn't worth talking about. But Monzant stayed out of baseball a year and, if he ever comes back it will be with the Giants.

I wouldn't blame Stoneham if he fired Rigney.

I don't think Rigney acted too smart in handling his pitchers, selecting his regulars or in playing percentage baseball. Some of the kindergarten players on the club didn't know from day to day whether they were going to play or not. And in my book that doesn't develop confidence or teamwork.

I'd like to have seen Rigney a bit more cautious in selecting pinch hitters early in a game.

ALSO some of the members of the Giants presented a problem that Rigney didn't quite understand.

Those fellows are prone to excitement and make many foolish plays; run the bases insanely and throw away games by taking unnecessary chances.

But, in spite of all these so-called handicaps, Bill Rigney did a splendid job of handling an inexperienced bunch of players. Where he fell down was in his handling of the seasoned performers on his club.

Stoneham may get a more expensive manager; maybe a better manager, but if he does the new manager will not be of the rubber stamp variety. He'll be the kind to tell Stoneham to take a running jump at the Bay Bridge.

And I personally think Stoneham wouldn't want that sort of a manager. So oo-we may get another load of Rigney in 1960.

'Couldn't Hold 'Em' Phrase Haunts Cal

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—"We just couldn't hold 'em."

This was murmured 23 years ago by Coach Nibs Price of California just after his Golden Bears had been crushed by Southern California, 74-0.

And after that season was over, Price concentrated on Basketball fulltime with the alumni having a hand in his decision. Even now when he recalls that black day in Los Angeles, the sharp-eyed little coach repeats "We just couldn't hold 'em."

Now that phrase is back again, sifting through the Bears' locker rooms and around the campus like a dismal fog.

"We just couldn't hold 'em ... Iowa beat our brains out."

Which figures. The powerful Hawkeyes, who had blasted California in the Rose Bowl, 38-12, last January, did it again Saturday amid friendlier Berkeley surroundings, 42-12.

BEARS 'PRIMED'

There was talk before the game that California actually was primed to stun the Hawks in this one. The team, campus reporters said, bubbled with confidence. And California started fast, getting a touchdown before the game was one minute old. It was a smashing defeat for a team that now must face Texas, Notre Dame and UCLA in that order.

Did the Bears get the same treatment which the Pittsburgh Pirates received from the mighty New York Yankees during the 1927 World Series? Veteran fans recall how the Waner brothers and other Pittsburgh stars watched in awe from the stands while Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig hit one ball after another out of Forbes Field during batting practice. Legend says that the series was lost right there.

Now it has been inferred locally that some of California's gridders were sweeping up the stadium last Friday when the Hawkeyes burst in and began going through practice. The cleanup gang, one reporter writes, watched the team which had handled them in the Rose Bowl then got cleaned up in turn on Saturday.

Coach Pete Elliott, who has known unhappy days before during his previous two seasons at California, said:

"We are capable of much better football and are not going to let one game ruin our season," the personable young coach declared.

While California seeks to bounce back at Texas, College of the Pacific is at Stanford, Ohio State at Southern California in a Friday game, UCLA at Pittsburgh, Washington at Utah, Washington State at Oregon, Oregon state at Nebraska, Hawaii at San Jose State and Idaho at Arizona.

LSU Retains Top Spot In Grid Rankings

Louisiana State's defending national champions clung tightly to their No. 1 position but the rest of the top ten underwent a spirited shakeup today in the second weekly Associated Press college football poll.

Northwestern wrested the runner-up spot from its Saturday victim, Oklahoma, and Oklahoma dropped from sight. The Sooners, beaten* 45-13, weren't listed among the first 20 teams—their lowest estate in years.

Meanwhile, Iowa, Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Tennessee and Texas moved into the select group. Auburn, Southern Methodist, Wisconsin and Texas Christian — like Oklahoma — tumbled.

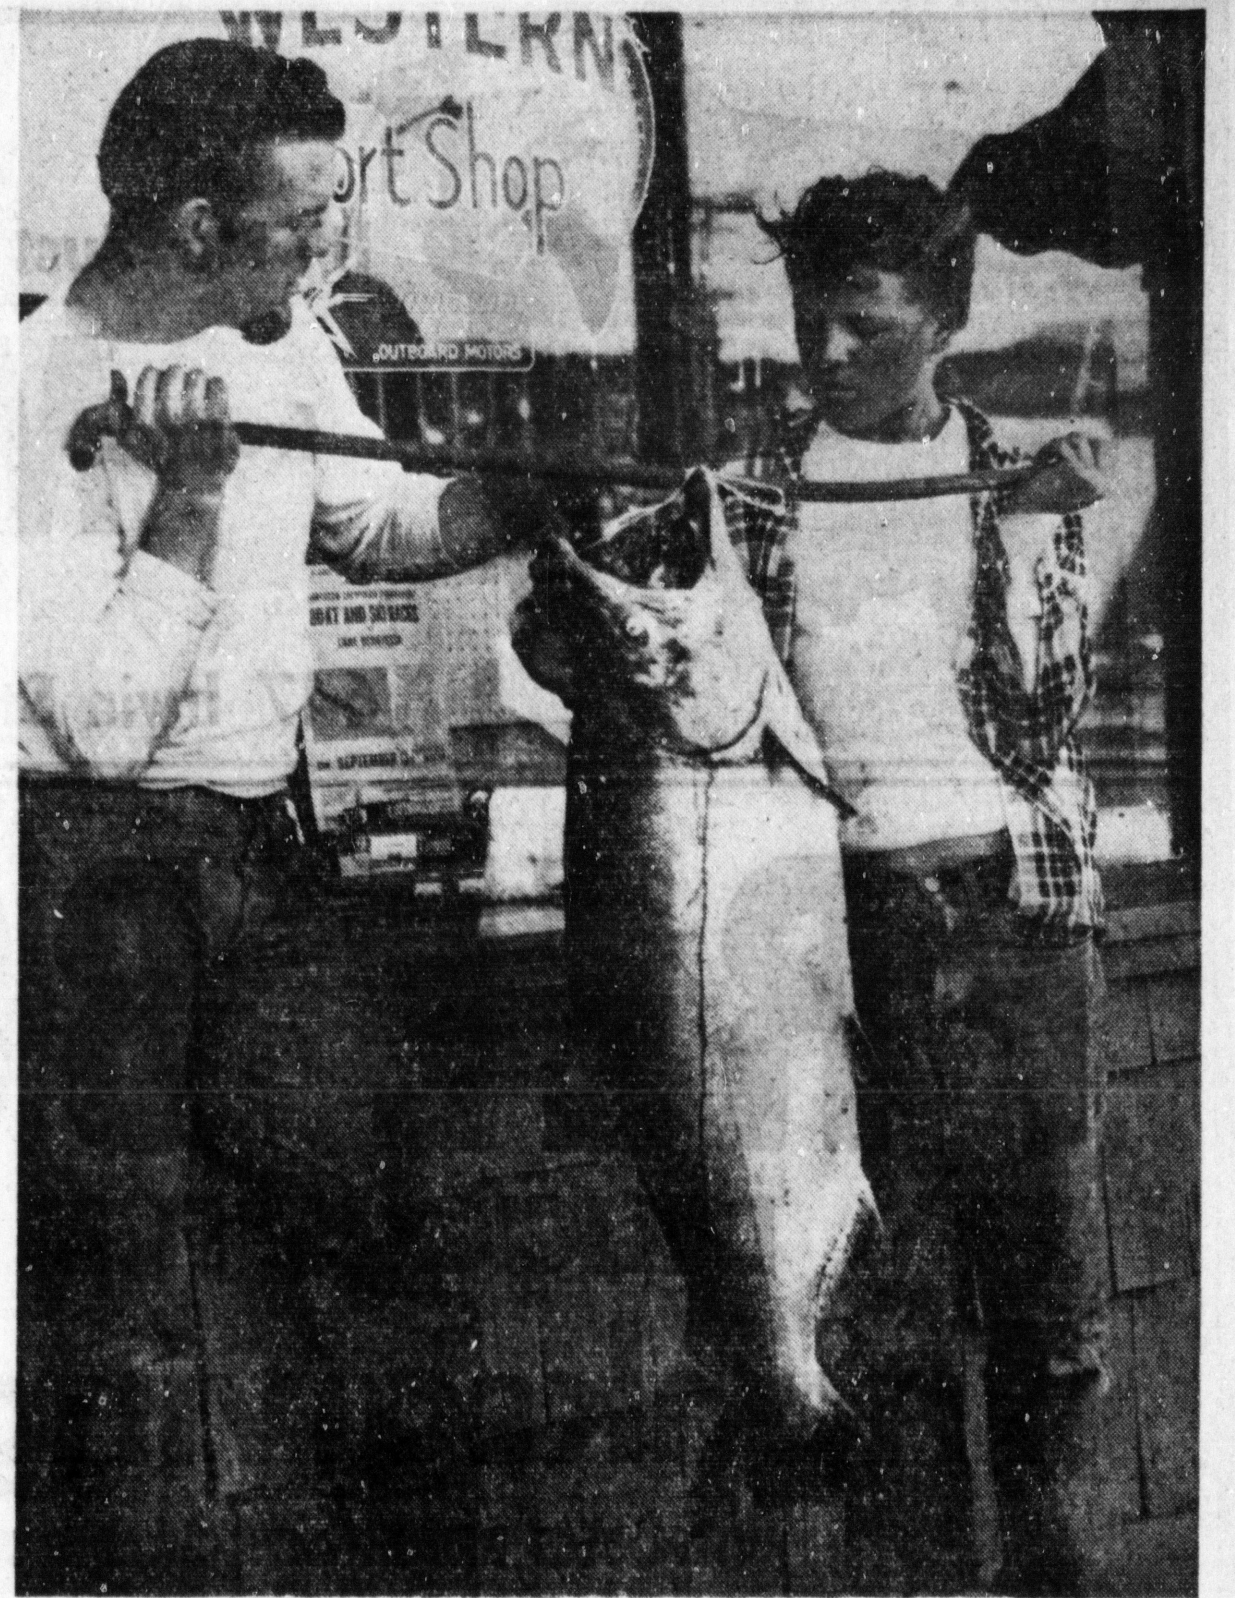

Mississippi, 16-0 victor over Kentucky, jumped a rung to the No. 3 position, followed by Army, 44-8 conqueror of Boston College, and Iowa, which crushed California 42-12.

Clemson, easy 47-0 winner over Virginia, dropped from fifth to sixth for no apparent reason and then came another Southern power, Georgia Tech, 16-12 upsetter of Southern Methodist. Clemson and Tech meet Saturday.

Notre Dame, which smashed North Carolina 28-8 under new coach Joe Kuharich, took seventh place. At No. 8 was Tennessee, which ended Auburn's prolonged unbeaten streak 3-0, and Texas, which rolled over Maryland 26-0.

L.S.U., 10-0 winner over Texas Christian, drew only 48 of the 86 first place votes from the country's sports writers and broadcasters and amassed a total of 794 points—well below last week's 1,105.

David Vattuone, Leonard d'Artenay and Frank Soares. The buffet will be held at noon on Oct. 7 in St. Raphael's gymnasium. (Independent-Journal photo)

ST. RAPHAEL'S 'Buffet In Hawaii' Planned By Guild

All the lavishness of decor and hospitality characteristic of Polynesia will be effected when St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild opens its "Buffet In Hawaii" to the public Wednesday, Oct. 7, in the school auditorium at 12 M.

The prosaic accoutrements of the school gymnasium are to vanish behind a facade of palm trees and coconut fronds, hibiscus and orchids, according to advance reports from Mrs. Frank Soares, general chairman.

Her decoration committee, headed by Mrs. Leonard d'Artenay, are busily preparing various scenic effects. The auditorium stage is to provide the focal point for the luncheon's theme. Here, before a backdrop of the rolling blue Pacific will be found the beach of Waikiki, complete with a little grass shack set in banks of tropical foliage.

Table appointments, featuring abalone shell planters and oyster shell cigarette trays, are being assembled by Mrs. Paul Jones Jr., and her committee.

Much planning and preparation have gone into the luncheon itself. As in the past, the entire guild membership is to provide the days menu. The buffet will offer a variety of salads, cold and hot entrees, "finger foods," breads and desserts, to be served in smorgasbord fashion.

Music of the islands and an exhibition of Hawaiian dances are to be included in the afternoon's entertainment.

Among those assisting Mrs. Soares in the luncheon preparations are her co-chairman, Mrs. Albert Bonfiglio, and committee heads, Mesdames Robert Andrews, Harry Butterworth, George Curry, D. J. Selmi, Raymond Schmidt, Harry Barbier, and W. Charles Hasler.

Reservations may be made with either Mrs. Emil Boracchia or Mrs. Marius Cordone. The closing date for reservations is set for Oct. 2.

Large Group Attends Class At Hospital

The Expectant Mothers Orientation Class given at Marin General Hospital the first Wednesday of every month is attended by a large number of expectant mothers.

This class includes specific information by Miss Amelia Ditt, superintendent of nurses; Mrs. Ellaligh Bridgeman, R.N., obstetrical supervisor; and Mrs. Joyce Mansfield, R.N.

Mimeographed copies of what is needed while a mother is in the hospital, as well as what is needed to take the baby home are given each expectant mother. Hospital procedure is explained, and a tour of the hospital is made after informative talks and a question and answer period.

Mesdames Lee Marriott of San Rafael and Roy Anderson of Mill Valley, Pink Lady Volunteers, presided over the tea table.

Among those attending the class were: Mesdames John Stevens, Lagunitas; William Duffin, Larkspur; John Severinghaus, Ross; Robert De Arevalo, Mill Valley; John Colombo, San Rafael; Charles Lee, San Anselmo; Robert Berger, Novato; Norman O'Keefe, San Rafael; Robert Gilmore, Kentfield; Lawrence D. Kelsey, and Richard Demers, Mill Valley; Charles Heart, San Anselmo; S. L. Wright, Corte Madera, and a guest, Mrs. John Cooke.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapter Plans Barbecue, Oct. 10

A booth at the Grape Festival, a barbecue to be held in October, a doll to be wardrobe as a Christmas project, and a program of Travel and Foreign Countries are all on the agenda of the Xi Alpha Xi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi for the coming year.

Plans for the Cake Booth for which all Marin County chapters of Beta Sigma Phi are responsible, were finalized at the recent meeting of the Xi Alpha Xi chapter held recently at the Novato home of Mrs. William Lennon, which was presided over by Mrs. Robert Steele, president. Beta Sigma Phi has operated this booth for the past 10 years.

Plans were also made for Xi Alpha Xi's annual barbecue which will be held on Oct. 10 at the home of Mrs. Angelo Colombo. This is an annual gathering of members and their husbands, which has become a tradition of Xi Alpha Xi.

At this meeting the members decided to dress a doll as their Christmas project. Proceeds from the sale of this doll will go to the various charitable organizations to which the chapter contributes.

The program of study for the coming year is entitled "Travel and Foreign Countries." Each member will be responsible for one program concerning a foreign country she has either visited, or hopes to visit some day. The customs, clothes, and outstanding points of interest of each country will be discussed.

FOCUS LUNCHEON WILL HONOR NEW FAMILY SERVICE LEAGUE

What's "In The Autumn Air" in Marin? A feeling of Indian Summer, the newest of smart fall fashion, and the enthusiastic launching of a new organization, the Family Service League.

Fashion Focus will combine the threesome next Tuesday "In The Autumn Air" at Rickey's to honor the Family Service League, newest adjunct to the Family Service League, the professional counseling service for individuals and families with varied kinds of problems.

The Family Service League with six branches in various areas of Marin will help to broaden the county's awareness of the Family Service Agency that serves all citizens of Marin regardless of race, creed or color, or economic standing.

Stepping out "In The Autumn Air" next Tuesday will be eight attractive models, members of the Family Service League, who will parade fashions for the busy autumn life of a homemaker, community-servicite, party giver and party goer, with a Marin specialty shop presenting its first fall showing.

Mr. Mort, Lanz, Elaine Terry, are among the favorite designers whose fall looks will be in the autumn air, with glamorous hair styles to enhance the fashions and the models created by a Marin shop.

The popular Tuesday series is open to the public with reservations for the 12:30 o'clock luncheon made by calling Rickey's.

Golden Star To Hear Of Travels In Europe

At the meeting of Golden Star Rebekah Lodge 112 Thursday night in the IOOF Temple, San Rafael, one of the members, Mrs. John MacPhail, who recently returned from extensive travels in Europe, will speak on some of the highlights of her trip.

Mrs. Mary Bruni, noble grand, will preside at the business session which starts at 8 o'clock. Mrs. C. W. Iverson is chairman for the meeting.

IOOF Whist Party

The public is invited to a Whist Party to be given by Mount Tamalpais Lodge 399 of Odd Fellows tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. in the Mill Valley IOOF hall.

Awards will be given and refreshments served. Committee members are Messrs. H. A. Maxey, H. E. Owen, C. L. Spiney, C. A. Norris and A. G. Hughes.

IN MILL VALLEY

Summer Reflections Highlight Luncheon Meeting Of P.E.O.

Summer reflections made an interesting afternoon for the members of Chapter NE, P.E.O. when they were entertained at luncheon Sept. 25 by Mrs. J. H. Hemingway and Mrs. Joseph Sheeks at the Hemingway home in Mill Valley.

Mrs. Ilion Jones, president, presided at the opening meeting of the new year, calling on committee chairmen for the various reports.

Reciprocity was called for yesterday in San Francisco in the Women's City Club.

Two guests were Mrs. George Yonkers of Chapter EA of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Larry Reed of GB, Kansas. The latter, with her family, recently moved to Mill Valley from Kansas City.

Mrs. Yonker is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Theodore A. Gill and family on Kensington road in San Anselmo.

Dr. Gill is president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Mrs. Hudson Ballard sent regrets. She and her husband, Dr. Ballard, will be spending several months in the east and Canada before joining relatives in Florida.

Mrs. Jacob Lindenbaum and her family vacated in Oregon where they attended the Portland Centennial, and also visited in Victoria.

The A. L. Mains were in Hartford, Conn. making the acquaintance of a new grandson. Just recently they were in Pasadena for the celebration of the ninetieth birthday of Mrs. Main's mother.

The W. W. Howes were in Washington State where, at Everett, Mrs. Howe attended the 25th anniversary of her graduation class when 320 were present. They also visited Lake Tahoe, Yellowstone and the Grand Tetons.

Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Rice spent the summer at home and welcomed houseguests from various parts of the United States. Dr. Rice recently rejoined the dental staff at the Presidio.

The Hemingways enjoyed fishing and visiting Oregon, Idaho, Sun Valley and Disney Land.

While her husband, Stephen Bruff, was teaching at Santa Rosa, Mrs. Bruff had a course in painting.

The Joseph Sheets visited their former home in Indiana. The A. J. Brinkerhoffs enjoyed the Shakespeare Festival at Ashland, Oregon.

Camping at Silver Lake was a pleasant experience for the F. D. Dales.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Aberholtzer, first time grandparents, enjoyed the newest member of their family and welcomed home their daughter, Polly, from Oregon for her summer vacation.

Busy with the Guide Dogs at the training school for the blind was Mrs. Helene Hjort.

The A. G. Stolls enjoyed the summer farming at their ranch Mrs. Stoll is now doing counseling at the San Francisco College while the regular counselor is abroad, having recited marriage vows.

Landscape Park Service took the A. C. Kuehls to many government parks throughout the United States. They also visited in Davenport, Iowa and Chicago.

Enjoying all thirteen of their grandchildren at their home in San Anselmo was the happy experience of Dr. and Mrs. Ilion Jones. A visit to Disneyland was included.

Mrs. Lehmann Ross entertained guests and Mr. Ross had a trip to a Boy Scout Camp.

Welcoming a new grandson, Richard Ham, and attending the wedding of her granddaughter were two high lights of Mrs. Samuel D. Archibald's summer. Later she and her husband visited New York in the interest of National Presbyterian Church affairs.

Welcomed back to Marin was Mrs. A. H. Wilcox, who with her family has returned to Novato following a several years residence in Benicia. Mrs. Wilcox welcomed a second grandchild.

Dr. and Mrs. G. William Maglady and family had an enjoyable mountain trip. Dr. Maglady has joined Dr. W. Scott Pollard and Dr. Arnold Nutting in San Rafael in their Marin offices.

Following the Leiberts' summer in Europe Mr. and Mrs. Edmund T. Leibert and family and Mrs. Leibert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Brown enjoyed entertaining the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wishard of Los Angeles, and her grand-nephew John Mohan from Bloomington, Indiana.

Absent was Mrs. Fred Crisp who with Mr. Crisp was vacationing in New Mexico, also Mrs. Earle Barnt who was in Nevada with Mr. Barnt.

On Oct. 9 members of NE will entertain their husbands at a barbecue at the Maglady home at 7 Pidgeon Hollow Road San Rafael.

Party Honors Samuel Linos

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Lino of Sausalito were guests of honor at a large "Welcome Home" party recently upon their return from five months in Europe. Hosting the event was their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hendricks at their Lucas Valley home.

Assisting the hostess was her sister, Mrs. Robert McMurray of Mill Valley and her sisters-in-law, Mrs. Manuel Lino of Sausalito and Mrs. George Lino of San Bruno. In addition to the honor guests' sons, son-in-law and eleven grandchildren, were thirty other relatives from Marin and Sacramento.

During their trip, Mr. and Mrs. Lino visited in the Azores, Portugal, Spain, Italy, Switzerland and France. A highlight while in the Azores was the wedding of a niece and nephew in which the Sausalito couple participated as matron of honor and best man.

Brother Lodge Entertains At Rebekah Meet

Brothers of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 put on an entertainment and served refreshments following the recent regular meeting of the lodge in the Mill Valley Odd Fellows Hall.

Mrs. Myrtle Dahl, noble grand, presided, and Al Hughes was chairman for the evening. Bert Norris, who has just returned from a trip to the southwest states, showed color-slides of spots he visited, including scenes from the "Marine Land of the Pacific," taken in Southern California; Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico; Monument Valley in Arizona; and a brief glimpse of Texas.

Mrs. Paul Hughes called attention to the clothing drive to aid children of all races and creeds being sponsored by the Christian Children's Fund. Members and friends wishing to contribute clothing were asked to call Mrs. Hughes or Mrs. Ella Smith or bring donations to the Odd Fellows Hall in Mill Valley.

The next regular meeting on Oct. 8 will be "Past Noble Grands' Night."

TERRA LINDA

Nursery School Emphasis On Meeting Needs Of Child

Under leadership of their new director, Mrs. Marcia Berchtold, the members of the Terra Linda Nursery School have begun a new year of school.

The school is in a new location this year at the Sunday School rooms of the Presbyterian Church, 635 Adrian way, Santa Venetia.

This year the emphasis is on meeting the individual needs of each child, no matter what his age group. Mrs. Berchtold feels this method develops each child's capabilities and interests as fast as the child himself will go. Special group activities are also planned, so that children will gradually gain confidence in sharing activities with larger groups as preparation for kindergarten.

The Terra Linda Nursery School provides many opportunities for the child to explore the world of art. Real clay is available every day. Easel painting is provided for the children at all times, both indoors and out, as is crayon drawing. Finger painting and collage are made special projects during the week.

The school has many kinds of blocks. Boys delight in building garages and farms, using the toy trucks and animals to add to the fun. A doll corner has sinks and stoves, cupboards, dishes, and, of course, many, many dolls for setting up housekeeping.

Music is part of the program. Children gather around the piano to sing, use rhythm instruments with the music, play games, or listen quietly while the phonograph spins out a story-song.

The outdoor play area is completely fenced. Part of it is paved for wheel top play, and the rest is covered with shavings on which stand a climbing cottage, fireman's gym, swings, sandbox and other outdoor equipment.

The day's activities include indoor and outdoor play, juice and crackers at mid-day, and rest time.

Mrs. Berchtold supervises the overall activities, and several cooperating mothers each morning acts as assistant teachers. The mothers, therefore, learn specific routines and techniques in handling children which apply at school and at home.

There are a few openings for age group 3-4, and car pools have been formed in Terra Linda, Lucas Valley, and Santa Venetia.

For further information call Mrs. Claire Marinoff.

Olios Program Planned For Sausalito Club

On Friday evening, Oct. 9, the Sausalito Woman's Club will present its first evening program of the fall season. "Nothing But Olios" has been chosen by Mrs. Emile Waldeufel, chairman. The bright and wonderful olios from the Sausalito Little Theater summer shows comprise the program fare. Singers, dancers, recitations and community singing with Rupert Kempf as master of ceremonies and Leonard Jared at the piano, show promise of a gay and entertaining evening.

Among those contributing their talents are Pru Baxter, Carol and Stephanie Burns, Barbara Gifford, Jacques Johnston, Margaret Jones, Leslie Kiefer, Jean Mackenzie, Mary MacMann, Fravel Maris, Lou Mason, Jean Parlette, Ed Ross, Brian Rowlands, Djorn Secher, Lucy Watson and Merrilee and Pippa White.

Greeting members and their guests at the door will be Mr. and Mrs. Leonard S. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. John Ward with Mrs. L. S. M. Beckett in charge of the guest book. Flower decorations for the occasion will be done by Mrs. Fay Sparks.

Following the performance, coffee and brandy will be served by Mrs. Brookner W. Brady assisted by Mesdames Frank Bosl, Glenn T. Hall and H. C. McVean Jr.

AT RECENT graduation exercises of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., Robin Law was all smiles when she presented Ambers J. Stone of Cottonwood, Ariz., with Billy, a Labrador Retrieer Guide Dog. Perhaps Robin, who is in her last year at Katharine Branson School, Ross, realized it wouldn't be too long before she, too, would be finished with her studies.

Terra Linda Group Dance To Be Nov. 14

The Terra Linda Parents' Group annual dance has been scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 14 at the Bermuda Palms. It was announced last night by President Charles and Marilyn Larkin at the group's first general meeting of the school year. Mrs. Henry Pierce will be chairman of the dance committee.

Meeting for the first time recently in the newly-finished multi-purpose room at the Bernard Hoffman School, 350 parents discussed the group's plans for the year and met the staffs of Bernard Hoffman and Santa Margarita schools in Terra Linda.

Supt. Dennis B. Willis introduced principals Charles Skutt (Bernard Hoffman School) and Raymond Riley (Santa Margarita School), who presented their teaching staffs.

Henry Smith, principal for the new seventh and eighth grade school now under construction in the Terra Linda area explained the present teaching set-up for these intermediate grades. He noted that a meeting to form a new parents group for the new school will be held at Bernard Hoffman school on Sept. 28. The new school is scheduled for occupancy by January, 1960.

The present Terra Linda Parents Group will continue to serve both Bernard Hoffman and Santa Margarita schools. Three more general business meetings are scheduled for Feb., April and June. Special program meetings in Nov., Jan., March and May will be divided between the two schools. All meetings are held on the fourth Tuesday of the month.

Proposed activities in support of the two schools' programs for the year were outlined by Paul Jones, activities committee chairman. These include plans for additional landscaping, development of library services, proposals for supplementing community recreation programs, and formation of study groups to investigate future needs and potentials of the schools.

Sub-Marine Decor Planned Oct. 7 For Fol-de-Rol

Giant paper fish, floating among strands of paper seaweed will be the air-borne portion of the decor for the spectacular Fol-de-Rol and Opera Ball to be staged by the San Francisco Opera Guild on Wednesday, Oct. 7 at the Civic Auditorium, to raise funds for low-cost student performances and to buy new sets for the Opera.

On the floor of the auditorium the big tables purchased by the Fol-de-Rol sponsors will be covered in deep green tablecloths with yellow flowers, coral fans, candles, and ornamental sea forms and mermaids, according to Mrs. Edward Griffith, decor chairman.

Edging the balcony will be swags of fish netting, and suspended, 10-inch paper fish, gilded with metal paint will float at intervals between streamers of aquamarine.

Tables surrounding the main floor will be in tones of blue-to-green-to-yellow, to continue the illusion of a party given in a sub-sea cavern.

A monstrous painted scene will be a backdrop behind the stage-in-the-round, with giant fish, seaweed, and a mammoth sea shell from which a mermaid will establish the theme, as bubbles rise about the shell to deepen the illusion of underwater decor.

On either side of the backdrop drop fishes will float in front of velvet curtains, and massed at the base will be huge branches of manzanita sprayed with coral-metal paint.

Even the balloons which signal the end of the Fol-de-Rol itself in which the world's top operatic stars, the San Francisco Ballet, and the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra give their services in a massed galaxy of stars unequalled anywhere else, and which mark the beginning of the Opera Ball, will carry out the sub-sea theme, and this year will be in shades of deep sea blue and green.

Tickets for the Fol-de-Rol are now on sale to the public at Sherman Clay and Co., San Francisco.

Chamberlains Go On A Sad Mission

Mr. and Mrs. J. Boatner Chamberlain were summoned to Portland, Ore., Saturday afternoon by the death of Mrs. Chamberlain's mother, Mrs. Mary B. Field, 83. Mrs. Field was the widow of Roscoe C. Field.

A native of Oregon, Mrs. Field's parents were among the seven families who settled in Willamette Valley. Mrs. Field had lived in Portland 14 years.

Besides Mrs. Chamberlain, Mrs. Field leaves a son, Dr. J. Edward Field of Portland, and seven grandchildren, including Deborah and David Chamberlain of Ross.

Funeral services are scheduled for Tuesday.

Lt., Mrs. Bartlett Parents Of Twins

From Germany comes news of the birth of twin daughters to Lt. and Mrs. Gerald T. Bartlett. The babies, born in Nurnberg on Sept. 25, have been named Nancy Louise and Janet Milene. One weighed five pounds, one and a half ounces, and the other five pounds, 12 ounces.

Lieutenant Bartlett is with the Tank Company, First Battalion, Second Armored Cavalry Regiment and stationed in Beyreuth. Grandparents of the twins are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bartlett of San Quentin, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Paregien of Visalia.

Eastern Houseguests

Col. and Mrs. Charles B. Overacker of The Redlands have as their guests her mother, Mrs. P. D. Moulton of Los Angeles, and her sister, Mrs. Richard T. Willson of Long Island. The visitors were honored at a cocktail party given by the Overackers last week.

A MAP of the Sunny Hills grounds is being studied by Mrs. John Reichmuth, left, co-chairman of the 60th annual Grape Festival coming up on Saturday; and, left to right, Mesdames Charles Murray, chairman of Community Booths, Walter Zweig, general chairman for the fourth successive year and Donald Jeffries, chairman of Guilds. The grounds will be open from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. at Sunny Hills in San Anselmo.

MV Methodist Women List Activities For October

Many activities were planned by officers of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Mill Valley Methodist Church at their recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Harold McLean.

Events planned were: Oct. 2—A sub-district meeting of the society in Sonoma to be attended by Mesdames William Wood, Edgar Nelson, Joe Hinerman and Mrs. McLean.

Oct. 6—The general meeting of the society in Wesley Hall of the church starting at 10:30 a.m. Plans will be made for furnishing the kitchen of the new church on Camino Alto and action will be taken on the nominations of Mrs. Paul Brown as children's work secretary and Mrs. Eugene Zucker as missionary education secretary.

After the salad luncheon prepared by Idabel Main Circle members and served by Mesdames Clyde Butterfield, Ellis Berry, Rudolph Dressler and Roy Driver, the 1 p.m. program will be a talk on "Role of the United Nations in world affairs" presented by Mrs. Ervin Tipton of San Rafael.

She is a former president of the United Council of Church Women, and was active in working with the United Nations when it was founded in San Francisco.

Oct. 16 and 17—A rummage sale in Wesley Hall under the chairmanship of Mrs. Clyde Butterfield, with a food sale under the direction of Mrs. C. H. Hardy on the 17th.

Oct. 20—The Idabel Main Circle will meet at the Mill Valley home of Mrs. Matt Par-chuck, and the Susanna Wesley Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. R. A. Saunders in Mill Valley.

Oct. 22—The Ethel Jackson Circle will meet at the Belvedere home of Mrs. Lawrence West, and the Mary Elizabeth Circle will meet at a place to be announced later.

The next executive meeting will take place Oct. 20 at 10 a.m. at Mrs. H. R. Mefford's home in Mill Valley.

Delta Gamma Group Plans Lunch-Meet

There will be a large turnout tomorrow at the home of Mrs. John J. Barrie of Greenbrae when the president of the San Francisco Delta Gammass, Mrs. Hendrie L. Gartshore, and Mrs. Max G. Funke address the group.

The Delta Gammass will meet at 12:30 p.m. for a luncheon and to hear Mrs. Gartshore speak on the "Garden and Patio Tour" to be held in October. There will be 10 San Francisco gardens on display. Proceeds will go to the project sponsored by the San Francisco Alumnae group, and helped by other local area groups.

"Ivan" is the project. He is a blind boy, who at five years of age is a ward of the court. He has been in and out of foster homes and has been quite a problem, up until the present time. Now his care has been taken over by the Delta Gamma Alumnae group and through its financial help he has developed into a good boy. Those attending should notify Mrs. John J. Barrie, Mrs. Walker or Mrs. Frank Stolte who are the co-hostesses for the meeting and luncheon.

Mrs. John Churchill Is Luncheon Hostess

Strictly on the distaff side was the dinner given recently by Mrs. John F. Churchill of Sausalito. The guests were Miss Kathryn Hassett and Mesdames Brookner W. Brady, Frank J. Enzensperger, Carl J. Finn, Edwin S. Long, William V. Lynch, Sylvester J. McAtee, Clement A. McKaig, Eugene T. Severin, Fay Sparks and S. C. Stapp. Following dinner, the group attended the party benefiting Star of the Sea Church.

Salad Luncheon Set

Caritas, an organization which raises money for various charities, is having a salad luncheon at the IOOF Hall, San Rafael tomorrow from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. The public is invited, Mrs. Steve Toth of Strawberry, the chairman, announces. Mrs. John Humber of Calistoga is head of the organization. A door award will be made.

Tam Valley P-TA Plans Carnival With Fun Theme

The Tamalpais Valley Elementary School Halloween Carnival will have "fun first" as its theme, according to Mrs. Jerome M. London, general chairman.

In connection with the theme the P-TA carnival committee will sponsor an art contest. Mrs. London stated at a recent meeting that each child will create a picture in any medium on Halloween. There will be one winner in each classroom, and these children will be picked up to receive a blue ribbon during the grand march at the carnival.

The carnival will be held on Oct. 31, Halloween Day, and an earlier time has been chosen this year—11:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

After a year's absence, "Nightmare Alley" will again be created, this time by Mrs. Eugene Taldo. Other chairmen named were Mesdames William Buchholz, arts and crafts; Fred T. Yates, plants; Jack Ward and Norman T. Kingsley, food; Joseph Fuller, rummage; Floyd Beaver and John Young, games; Kurt Helmstaedter, doll clothes; Lester Jorgensen and Richard Moritz, tickets; Herman Koolhoven, cake walk; Walter Wolf, decorations; Jack Foisie, publicity; and William Mendenhall, clean up.

E. J. Irving will handle the public address system, and Robert E. Ford will be in charge of parking.

Dental Assistants To Meet Oct. 7

Marin County Dental assistants will meet Oct. 7 at 8 p.m. at the Tanner Dental Building in San Anselmo. The United Arts Laboratory of San Francisco will give a clinic on implant dentures.

All dentists of Marin, as well as assistants, are welcome.

Leo Curtin Claims Bride In The East

The Church of the Nativity of Our Lord in Pittsburgh, Pa., was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Lois Lang of Spring Hill, Pittsburgh, and Leo J. Curtin of Kentfield.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Lang of Pittsburgh, and the bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence D. Curtin of Kentfield.

Vases of white flowers were at the altar for the 11 o'clock nuptial mass with the Monsignor William F. Reilly officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina gown of white lace fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and short sleeves. Her shoulder length veil of French silk illusion was held by a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Carlo Castaldo of Carnegie, Pa., as matron of honor, wore a ballerina gown of emerald green chiffon trimmed with emerald satin. Her matching emerald bandeau had a short veil and she carried a bouquet of bronze pom-pom daisies.

Harold Lutz of Pittsburgh was best man and ushers were William Hart of Washington, D.C., and J. Patrick Smith of La Porte, Ind.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lang wore a gray-green lace dress. Her flowers were white roses.

The bridegroom's mother was unable to be present. A breakfast followed the ceremony at noon in the Beverly Hills Hotel in Pittsburgh where decorations were in pink and white.

For a wedding trip to Las Vegas and San Francisco, the bride wore a blue suit with black accessories and blue beaver hat. She had a white rose corsage.

The bride was graduated from Allegheny High School in Pittsburgh, and has been employed in Washington, D.C. as a staff assistant in the offices of General Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The bridegroom was graduated from Tamalpais High School and attended College of Marin and the University of San Francisco. Mrs. Donald Christensen of San Rafael and James Curtin of Kentfield are his sister and brother.

He is employed as a sales executive with the Hilton Carte Blanche Corp., and was commanding officer of Company D, 579th Engineer Battalion in the California National Guard in Fairfax.

Auxiliary Of Medico Group Plans Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Marin County Medical Society will be held on Thursday night at the Meadow Club following the 7 o'clock meeting of the Medical Society.

Mrs. William R. Smart, president of the auxiliary, will conduct the meeting at which the proposed annual budget will be presented. The program which follows will feature Katy and Paul Steinmetz, well known Marin County landscape architects.

Mrs. Gerald Jampolsky, program chairman, states that Mr. and Mrs. Steinmetz will have as their subject "Is Your Garden a Beautiful Burden?" Using color slides as illustration, the husband and wife team will discuss ways to plant gardens that require little maintenance but give a maximum of use and beauty. They will describe gardens of this type for hillside as well as level lots and for locations in various sections of the county.

A question and answer period will follow their talk and members may come prepared with questions on their special problems.

VERY SUCCESSFUL

150 Members And Guests Attend Hawaiian Dance

One of the most successful events ever staged by the Mill Valley Women's Golf Club, according to president Mrs. L. J. Calender, was Saturday night's Hawaiian Dinner Dance, attended by more than 150 members and guests.

Authentic to the last detail were decor and luau to the extent that many who had recently visited the Islands said they had seen nothing better of the kind while they were there.

Most of the credit, Mrs. Calender said, goes to general chairman Mrs. Philip Dunning, who has had wide experience in staging this kind of festivities. She was assisted by Mesdames Arthur Schollock, Andre Hahn and Frank Peters.

Palms and bamboo were used in background decor, and tables carried out the tropical theme with green foliage interspersed with pineapples and coconuts.

A genuine Hawaiian combo provided music for the dancing, and highlight of the evening was entertainment by hula dancers who just arrived in San Francisco last week for the Pacific Festival. With them was a 15-year-old boy who performed the famous sword dance.

Mrs. Calender's guests were her two sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Calender, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Calender, and Messrs. and Mesdames John Robinson, Gene Augrey and Howard Bleye.

Coming with Dr. and Mrs. Philip Dunning were Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Balachy and Harry Seiler, and Fred Reel and Mrs. Jean Auerbach.

Among those entertaining guests beforehand were the Frank Peters and Bruno Maracinas. The Peters invited Messrs. and Mesdames Vernon Stroh, Glen Peterson, Frank Nelson and Shelby Garwood, and Lester Maher of St. Louis, who is visiting them.

The Maracinas' guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Peter Maracini, Ernest Brymer, W. E. Van Buskirk, Dr. and Mrs. Leland Duffield, Mrs. Norma Schiehl, Miss Emily Maracini, the Fred Greenlands, and their guests, the Harry Kramers, and Messrs. Ivo Masoni and Joe Rockaforte.

The Glen Paulsons brought Mr. and Mrs. George Bogel, and the J. C. Osbornes' guests were Messrs. and Mesdames A. G. Cinielli, Paul Hurd and J. A. Scatena.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim McGinnis entertained Messrs. and Mesdames L. J. Smith, William Finders, William Gosser, William Oesche, Barry Boland and William Cavanaugh, and guests of the H. C. Mullers were Messrs. and Mesdames Charles McMillan, D. E. Craig and Robert Morgan.

MISS EMMA A. GILMORE of Stockton, center, and Mrs. James Welton of San Rafael, right, shown here chatting with Mrs. Leiton J. Elder, were guests of honor at a recent Fashion Focus luncheon at Rickey's Rancho Rafael saluting San Rafael General Hospital and its Women's Auxiliary. Miss Gilmore was the first nurse at the hospital when it was established in 1905 and Mrs. Welton was graduated from the School of Nursing operated during the early years of the hospital. Mrs. Elder, a member of the San Rafael General Board of Trustees, and an officer of the Auxiliary, was their hostess at the luncheon. (Les Walsh photo)

Episcopal Women Hear Address By Bishop's Wife

Mrs. James A. Pike, guest speaker recently at the first fall meeting of Episcopal churchwomen of the Mill Valley Church of Our Saviour, raised the question of how Christian women really make decisions on current social problems.

Seventy members and guests were present to hear this special program on "The Responsibilities of Christian Citizenship" presented by the wife of the well known bishop of California. For many years she held executive positions in the Diocese of New York and with the National Council of the Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Pike first suggested some of the unconscious bases on which women actually make decisions, such as their husband's opinions, political affiliations and class in society, and she said the real standard should be Christian principles. She then drew lively audience participation in discussion of some current issues—mainly the questions of censorship and racial prejudices. Regarding the later he declared, this

Church Kids Are Good Kids — They Keep High Moral Standards

The only large group of teenagers living up to our traditional moral standards is the church group. Church kids are good kids. That's one of the reasons I'm rearing my children in a good church. Are you bringing your youngsters up the same way? I hope so.

There are other reasons. Our children need the strength which faith in God brings. They need the release from guilt which follows repentance and forgiveness. They need reasons for being good.

I once made a study of the church backgrounds of the delinquent teenagers in a big city. Can you guess what I found? Ninety-nine out of 100 had no contact with church. Only one in 100 knew the meaning of the word "worship." God was a myth to the others. No wonder they had low standards.

If you haven't started your children in church, get busy. I'm not telling you where to go. That's up to you. If you have no preference, shop around. Pick a church with a theology you accept. Find one with a leader you admire. Join, and bring your children. Now is the time to do it. Churches are getting started on their year's programs.

Don't expect your children to stay interested if you don't attend. You should take part. If you find your church has flaws, don't let them throw you. The members are human and act like it. But you'll make many wonderful new friends. You'll discover that most church people are sincere, gracious, helpful. That's a promise. Please take my suggestions seriously. You won't be sorry.

Guilty Plea Made In Marijuana Case

Vincent Gerrold Phillips, 22-year-old San Rafael mechanic, pleaded guilty yesterday to possessing marijuana at his home on Fifth avenue on Sept. 15.

Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court set Oct. 19 as the date for sentencing. San Rafael police nabbed Phillips at 2015 Fifth avenue and found several packages of marijuana under floor boards of his garage.

Charges are still pending against another man caught in the same raid. The second suspect is Ronald John Hollingworth, 20, of 131A Reservoir road, San Rafael, who works for a heating company. The Marin charge against Hollingworth is pending the outcome of similar charges which he faces in San Mateo County.

Science Can't Be Master, Panel Warns

NEW YORK (UPI)—Six renowned thinkers agreed today that mankind must harness its new-found scientific powers for peaceful purposes or face possible extinction.

They warned that man, in taking advantage of science's spectacular advances, must be careful not to let science become his master.

The six panel members, participating in a symposium on "The Future of Man," offered a variety of proposals designed to cope with challenges expected to face mankind in the near future.

LIST OF SPEAKERS

They were poet Robert Frost, author and biologist Sir Julian Huxley, philosopher Lord Bertrand Russell, zoologist Dr. Hermann J. Muller, anthropologist Dr. Ashley Montagu and Devereux Josephs, former chairman of the New York Life Insurance Company and former president of the Carnegie Corporation.

Establishment of a powerful world authority, a world population policy, a system of worldwide education and increased government planning were among the proposals advanced by the panel members in the symposium held at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

In an introductory address, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of John Hopkins University and chairman of the symposium, called for a program that will yield "peace with justice and the constructive use of our new-found power."

ALTERNATIVE

The alternative, he said, is "to toil in fear — fear that terrible forces will, by design or miscalculation, break loose and destroy mankind."

Lord Russell, a Nobel Prize winner in 1950, said that mankind must choose, within a few decades, whether to accept extinction or create a powerful world authority with a monopoly on the major weapons of war.

"Science during the next hundred years is likely to cause either utter disaster or great increase in human welfare," the 87-year-old British philosopher said. He participated by means of video tape and short-wave radio from London.

Mantagu said a system of world-wide education was the key toward elimination of war. He called for a re-evaluation of present modes of instruction and establishment of a specialized education "conceived as the science and art of human relations."

MORE CHANGES

Josephs said mankind's future depends on its adaptability to change, "because it will come at an even faster pace."

"There is no point trying to picture the push button business and industrial world of future man unless we make sure that he will be able to be the master and not the slave of the magical world he is creating," he said.

Josephs, chairman of the President's committee on education beyond the high school, also forecast more government planning.

Huxley said a world population policy would be necessary to prevent erosion of the world's resources.

COOPERATION

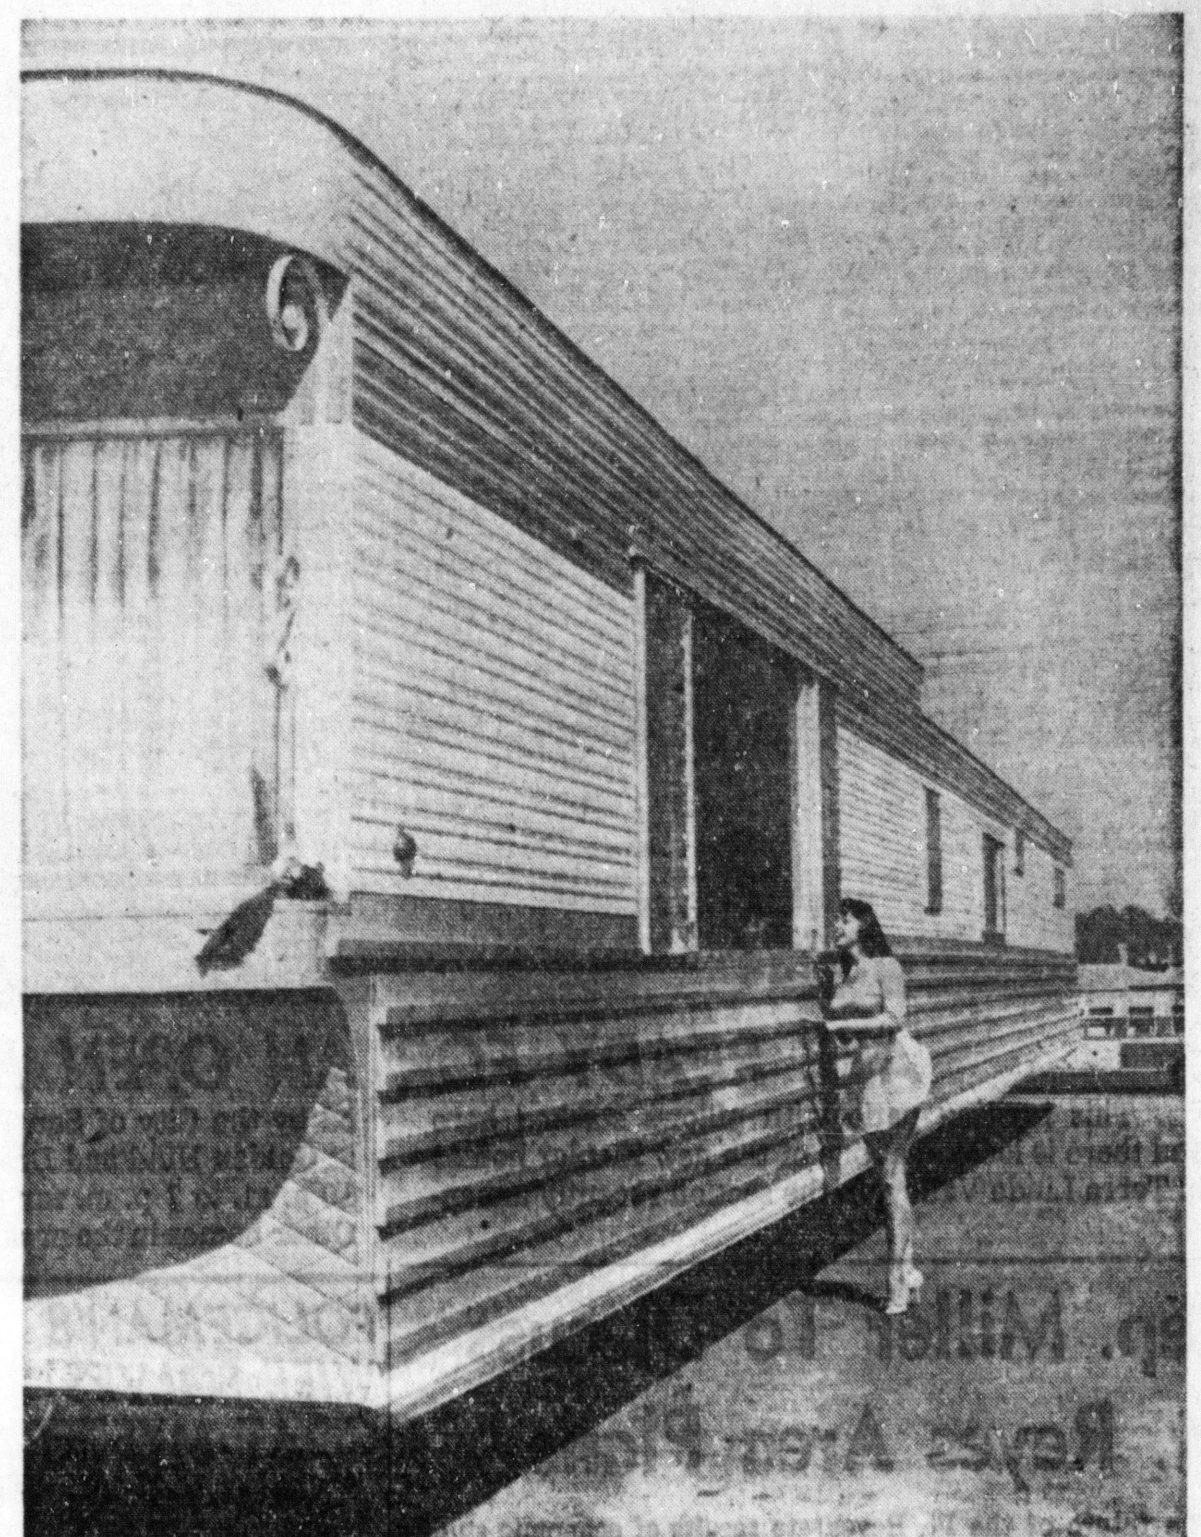

Man, he said, soon "will be driven" to plan a cooperative project aimed at securing greater fulfillment for more human beings. For this, Huxley said, "Mankind will need a vast program of research on human possibilities and methods for realizing them more fully."

Frost, a four-time Pulitzer Prize winner, suggested that mankind may have progressed far enough.

"If we are thought to have matured to a point where we can take control of our own evolution and go with it," he said, "why can't it be to stop ourselves in our tracks, if there isn't too much the matter with us we are."

In a recent survey of 127 companies by the National Industrial Conference Board, 40 of them reported that the cost of making out tax forms, registering protests and so on totaled the equivalent of three per cent or more of their tax bills.

The projects are the first to be advertised since Congress voted a one-cent increase in the federal gas tax to replenish the federal highway trust fund. The state had halted new contracts Aug. 5 because of uncertainty about the federal allocations.

LARGEST MOBILE HOME ON DISPLAY

The 70-foot Roadcraft Imperial, described as the world's largest mobile home, is on display at the Bay Area Home Show which is now on at San Francisco's Cow Palace. Here

Nancy White of San Leandro, with the fetching title of "First Alternate Designing Woman" at the show, takes a peek into the mammoth trailer. The show runs through Sunday.

MOVIES AND MORALS

Recent Films Emphasize Hollywood Code Changes

By BOB THOMAS

(First of a series on morality in movies.)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—In "Blue Denim," teen-ager Carol Lynley is going to have a baby by Brandon DeWilde, who arranges an abortion.

In "They Came to Cordura," Rita Hayworth is almost raped by Van Heflin and Richard Conte, later gives herself to Heflin for the night in order to save Gary Cooper.

In "Anatomy of a Murder," such terms as spermogenesis, sexual climax and panties are discussed in testimony.

These and many other recent films have pointed up the fact that morality in Hollywood movies has undergone a change. And what a change!

Producers are looking for new and often shocking stories with which to entice the public into the theaters. They feel they must—or else be wiped out as an industry.

Does this mean Hollywood is going crazy with no moral restraints?

Of course not. Says studio boss Buddy Adler: "It would be a very bad day for the industry if there were no production code or some form of restriction on producers. Anybody who wants to do away with the code is crazy."

There are some movie makers who would like to scrap the code, which has censored Hollywood films for nearly 30 years. But industry leaders know the code is the bulwark against the multitude of would-be censors in government and religion.

But the code, a human document, can be interpreted to suit the times. And it can be changed.

The last big change came in 1956. Until then, movies could not even suggest dope addiction, abortion, miscegenation or white slavery and swearing was never heard.

Today the movie makers are at the crossroads. Should they face the wrath of the moralists or the apathy of the public? The latter seems more fatal.

Among the provisions of Hollywood's production code:

Adultery and illicit sex, sometimes necessary plot material, shall not be explicitly treated, nor shall they be justified or made to seem right or permissible.

Seduction or rape should never be more than suggested, and then only when essential to the plot.

The subject of abortion shall be discouraged, shall never be more than suggested, and when referred to shall be condemned.

The sanctity of the institution of marriage and the home shall be upheld. No film shall infer that casual or promiscuous sex relationships are the accepted or common thing.

In general, passion should be treated in such a manner as not to stimulate the baser emotions.

(NEXT: Are movies exploiting sex for sex's age? Churchmen vs. movie-makers.)

The American Newspaper Publishers Association reports that newspapers in the United States and Canada rejected nearly nine million dollars worth of advertisements in 1958 because they did not meet the papers' standards of truthfulness and good taste.

Air Patrol Names Cadet Commandant
A/1c Glenn Hargitt of the 41st Air Rescue Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base has been named commandant of cadets for the two flights of Marin's Civil Air Patrol, Cadet Squadron 4.

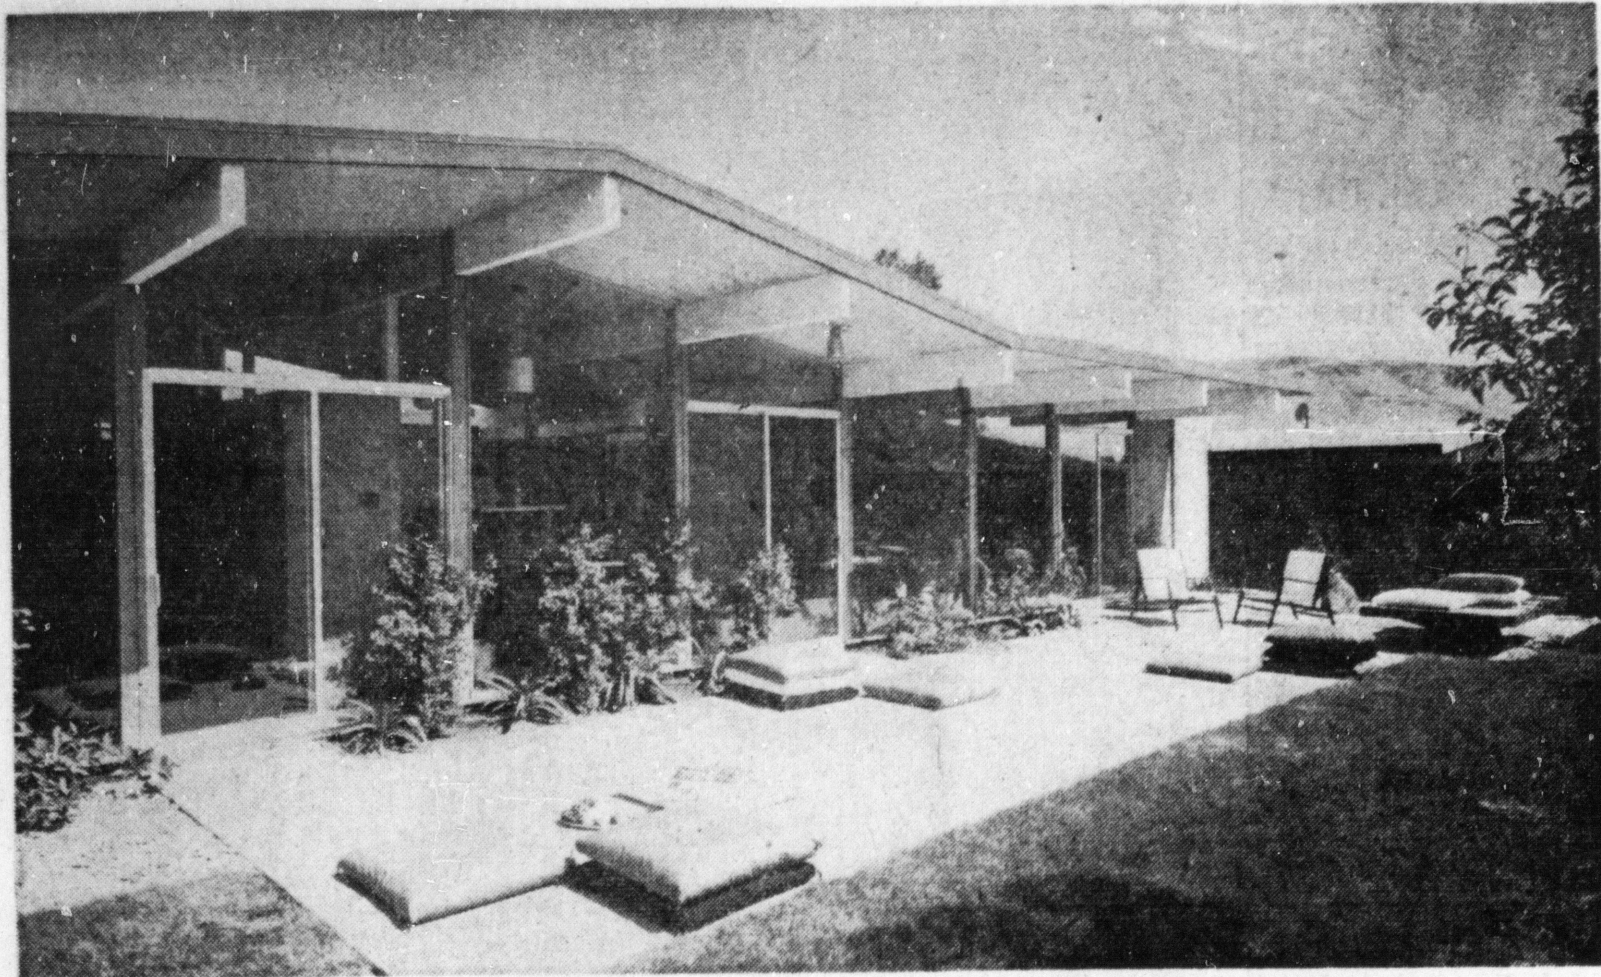

Hargitt was a CAP cadet commander in his home town of Walla Walla, Wash., and later became commandant of cadets at a squadron which he organized in Great Falls, Mont., where he also served as commander of the senior squadron.

Both flights 2 and 4 of the local cadet squadron are doing Link Trainer work in their temporary meeting place at Commodore Aviation in Sausalito. Flight 4 meets Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m., and Flight 2 on Thursdays, also at 7:30 p.m. Prospective members may attend at any time.

Both senior and cadet squadrons will soon have a closer link with the Air Force of which the CAP is an official auxiliary. A building for the group's meetings and supplies will be provided at Hamilton Air Force Base soon, according to Hargitt.

ALL READY FOR AN OPEN HOUSE

This inviting patio with pillows stacked here and there is located at one of the new Eichler homes in Terra Linda Valley, in the section recently annexed by the City of San Rafael. This home is located at Golden Hind and Drake's Cove, and is open from 10 a. m. to 7 p. m. for the inspection of the public. Other homes in the area also are open for inspection.

Rep. Miller To Discuss Pt. Reyes Area Plans

The future of the Pt. Reyes Peninsula will be discussed by Rep. Clement W. Miller (D-Cor. Madera) at 8 p. m. tomorrow at the Pt. Reyes Seashore Foundation public meeting at College of Marin.

In a letter to Mrs. Norman B. Livermore, acting chairman of the foundation, the lawmaker stressed that he is not committed to the Pt. Reyes park proposal.

He said he wanted to evaluate results of economic studies to be sure that "vital Marin County community and economic interests will be safeguarded."

Pointing out that subdivision and other commercial development appears inevitable for much of the area, Miller said: "It seems to me that the alternatives for the Pt. Reyes area are not public recreation development versus its present undeveloped and pastoral state. The key question seems to be whether for most productive use, this (dairy ranching and commercial and residential development) should be balanced with some public development also."

Miller will give a report on the wilderness bill, the new Murray bill for national resources, and "park and recreation problems in general as they look from the Capitol dome."

POLICEMAN'S WIFE SOLVES COAT MYSTERY

A new raincoat she "waited a whole year for" was on its way back to Mrs. Marjorie Keyer, Marin City, today from Mrs. Hope Rosentangle of the San Rafael Montgomery Ward credit office.

Mrs. Keyer bought the raincoat when she bought her little boy's school clothes Sept. 5, but it was stolen or misplaced in Woolworth's just after she left Wards'.

When a "lost" ad brought no results, Mrs. Keyer wrote a letter to the editor of the Independent-Journal to appeal for the coat's return.

Mrs. Rosentangle, incidentally, is the wife of Officer John Rosentangle of the San Rafael Police Department. It was an "elementary" step for her to connect the I-J appeal with the mysterious bundle found by a clerk at Woolworth's.

Branch Bank Managers To Attend Meeting

Bank of America branch managers J. V. Bacigalupi of San Rafael, J. C. Crean of Fairfax, M. W. Coombs of Larkspur, V. A. Barossi of Hamilton Air Force Base, G. A. Todaro of Mill Valley, A. L. Cencio of Point Reyes Station and Frank Bosl of Sausalito will join 800 colleagues from branch offices throughout California, Asia, Europe, Latin America and the Middle East at a Bank of America worldwide management conference Thursday and Friday in San Francisco.

Poetry Day Banquet

Anita Day Hubbard, San Francisco columnist, will address the annual Poetry Day banquet of the Ina Coolbrith Circle at 6:30 p. m. Oct. 17 at the Athens Athletic Club, 1215 Clay street, Oakland.

Reservations must be made by Oct. 10. Emil G. Soeth of 601 Hillgirt circle, Oakland, is reservation chairman.

CHECK BEFORE BUYING

State Agency To Eye Loan Sales

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The state Real Estate Division is taking a long, hard look at those advertisements which tell you how you can make 10 per cent or more on money invested in real estate loans.

Especially, those ads which talk about big returns on "secured" loans.

The so-called "10 percenters" and dealers in trust deeds were put under jurisdiction of the Real Estate Division by the last Legislature.

IT'S LEGAL

There's nothing legally or morally wrong with selling trust deeds—which are the legal papers people sign when they borrow money to buy houses—but state officials feel the general public should know exactly what the dealers are talking about when they advertise "secure" loan paper for sale.

One of the regulations to be adopted by the Real Estate Division probably will require the "10 percenters" to define "secure." In other words, is the paper they have for sale in the form of first, second or third deeds of trust?

RISK INCREASES

All of them, can be as good as gold, but the risk increases as the number goes up. A first deed is pretty sound because if the borrower doesn't make his home payments on schedule, the holder of the first deed can sell the house. The holder of the second deed can get his money only if there's some left after the first, has been paid. And the holder of the third has to see the two before him paid in full before he can collect anything.

What is happening to a great extent in California now is this: A man holds a second trust deed for, say, $1,000. He suddenly needs cash badly. He can't get it from the home owner because the contract calls for stipulated monthly payments. So he sells it to a "10 percenter" or dealer in trust deeds at a whopping discount. He gets only about $500 for his $1,000 note.

The longest steel arch bridge in the world is the 1,675-foot span over the Kill Van Kull between Balonne, N. J., and Staten Island, N. Y.

The "ten percent" in turn offers the $1,000 deed to the general public for, say, $750. If the home owner ultimately pays off in full, the buyer of the note at $750 makes a nice $250 profit.

But he also has assumed the risk that the home owner can't pay off and that the house might decline in value to the point where a forced sale would not bring $750 above what is due the holder of the first deed. The investor loses his shirt.

In the meantime, however, the trust deed dealer got his neat $250 profit and disposed of all risk when he sold the $1,000 deed—for which he paid $500—to you for $750.

NEW THUNDERBIRD LETS IN SUN

The 1960 Thunderbird comes up with a distinctive "first" for Ford: An optional sliding roof panel that combines the joys of open air motoring with the safety and classic styling of the Thunderbird hardtop. The all-steel panel slides back to a full opening of 19 by 34 inches.

Washington Braces For Annual Invasion By Feathered Nuisances

WASHINGTON (AP)—This town is going to the birds.

During the peak roosting season ahead, uncounted millions of starlings and pigeons will hover over the unwarmed and desecrate the capital's classic buildings and monuments.

Mindful that annual cleanup costs run into the thousands of dollars, the Commerce Department's Office of Administrative Operations last week issued a special order on pigeon feeding by employees. It said "This practice must be curtailed since it very obviously creates poor housekeeping and unsanitary conditions."

This was the latest move in a long standing war of nerves between man and bird.

The General Services Administration, which maintains public buildings, has been forced to adopt an expensive bird-proofing program.

One was is to string electrically charged wires along window ledges and under eaves. This was done at the National Archives for $51,000.

GSA also uses a putty-gray paint which contains a chemical that is distasteful to birds but will not harm them. Experiments also have been conducted in broadcasting high frequency waves.

Before the Archives strung its wires, it used recordings of a hawk's cry to scare away stalling and pigeons. This worked, but it also attracted hawks.

One downtown office building several years ago stationed a mechanical owl on a window ledge. Periodically, the owl would flap its wings. This scared the nuisance birds for a time. Then they started roosting on the owl's head.

The bird-proofing program has had some unhappy consequences. The Archives and the Treasury no longer have bird troubles. But the problems of their neighbors have been increased.

A lot of Congressmen became convinced this year that the birds from the Archives have moved to the Capitol building.

Congress has passed a new law which makes it legal for District of Columbia authorities to exterminate nuisance birds in a humane manner.

College Students' Pre-Marital Sex Rate Said High

NEW YORK (AP)—A sociologist said today that a study of 1,000 college students had shown that 66 per cent of the men and 14 per cent of the women had experienced sexual relations before marriage.

The study was made by Dr. Winston Ehrmann, professor of sociology who recently left the University of Florida to join the faculty of Colorado State University. It was the subject of an article in Redbook magazine.

Classifying relationships into acquaintances, friends and lovers, Ehrmann found a marked difference of attitude between men and women in intensive interviews with 100 students.

Of the men, 56 per cent said they had had sexual relations with acquaintances, 60 per cent with friends, and only 24 per cent with lovers.

Of the women, only 2 per cent had had such experience with acquaintances, 6 per cent with friends, but 17 per cent with lovers.
